Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

or Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season.—Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and otherwise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Winter Treatment of Hens.

During cold weather is the time when most people complain that their hens do not lay.—Of course, to obtain eggs in winter requires more and better attention than in summer, but they can be had. Compliance with a few simple conditions is all that is necessary. In the first place, give your hens sunlight. Have their quarters so constructed that they can readily get into the direct rays of the sun; and make them in all respects warm and comfortable. Secondly give them varied food principally the various grains, the most desirable of which is corn, but alternate this with oats, buckwheat, wheat and potatoes. Potatoes boiled and mashed and fed to fowls warm is a most excellent winter food. I would recommend a part of the corn to be fed whole, and this at night, for the reason that it digests slowly, and they need something to stand by them through the long nights. In the morning feed ground food for the reason that the night's food has been all digested, and they need such food as they can appropriate at once. When the weather is very cold, wet up the meal with hot water, as it will warm them up and make them comfortable.

A very important part of the egg is in the shell, in fact an egg without a shell does not amount to much. Unless the hen has material for shell, the other preparations for eggs are pretty much void. In winter, hens have little chance to secure shell material for themselves, therefore it must be furnished for them. This can be done by pounding oyster or clam shells, and feeding them twice a week or so. I use bone meal, which is an excellent preparation, though more expensive than the others. Always give hens access to gravel.

A hen is domestic in its nature and habits, as a cow or sheep; and this principle must be respected. It is a true maxim, that "a happy hen is a laying hen." Keep your hens in fear, or in a strange place, or abuse them and they will not under such conditions be disposed to rear their progeny; hence they will lay few eggs. The policy of breeders generally is that of kindness, and it holds good here as elsewhere. Secure a good breed of fowls, feed well with the food we have already suggested, and feed regularly, varying occasionally with vegetables, and now and then some animal food. Water is of course good for a hen as for all animals, together with clean quarters and comfort all around.—In rearing chickens, keep them growing without interruption, by feeding all they will bear until they have attained maturity. They will be larger and lay sooner. Young hens are best for laying. A good cross is as good as a single blood; but all crosses are not equally good. The pure bloods are safest.—Get these and abide by them, getting fresh infusions of the same strain from abroad thro' the male. In this way hen keeping for eggs can be made both safe and profitable.—D. C. Noxon, Roxbury, Del. Co.

How it Happened.

A DRUMMER IN A SCRAPE—THE WAY HE GOT OUT OF IT.

At Big Creek, Arkansas, they have a peculiar fashion which sometimes proves embarrassing. As there is no preacher within thirty miles, the way for marrying is by kissing across a table. Recently a New York drummer was out there. He put up at a private house, and became quite intimate. One evening he was fooling around one of the girls, trying the extent of her sweet temper, when she gave his whiskers a pull and ran. He followed. She got the table between them.—He chased her around it several times. When out of breath he stopped on the other side, made a wild plunge, caught her in his arms and gave her a hearty kiss. She then sat down on the sofa and they talked pleasantly for a couple of hours—he thinking it singular that she should sit up so late.

At last she said, "Don't you think it's about time we went to bed?"

"I guess you are right," he remarked, "let's go."

She lit a candle, and he was about to do the same, when she said, "I reckon one's enough. One candle will light two folks to bed."

"Undoubtedly it would, when those two persons occupy the same room. But your candle won't illuminate my chamber."

"Ain't we going to occupy the same room? Ain't we married?"

"Ain't we what?" shouted the gentleman.

"Married! Didn't you kiss me across the table? That married us."

A cold sweat spread over the drummer.—He knew that if he said he wasn't married to her she would make an outcry, and then her loving and much-tobacco-consuming father would arise in his wrath and carve him into cutlets, and her brothers would bring down their shot-guns and empty the contents into him. He must be strategic. He must put her off. So he said:

"Fairest of your sex, permit me to remark that I did not know that kissing across the table constituted a marriage ceremony. But I am content. I have never seen one who so completely filled my ideal of a beautiful, sweet, loving and modest woman. However, I would never think of holding you to this marriage until I had asked the permission of your father to pay my addresses to you. To-morrow, at dinner, when the entire family are present, I will propose for your fair hand."

This satisfied the lady, and, after bestowing upon him a fervent kiss, she went to her room, and he went to his. He packed his carpet-bag, took off his boots, and made tracks for the nearest railroad station. He didn't feel entirely safe until he had reached St. Louis.—He hasn't informed his wife of this little adventure. He's afraid she might write out to Arkansas for the facts in the case, and then he might get arrested for bigamy. Women sometimes won't listen to reason, you know.

Sanded Superphosphate.

The "Bulletin of the Bussey Institute," just issued, is a pamphlet of 80 pages, and is chiefly occupied with three papers by Prof. Storer, giving account of various agricultural chemical investigations, and with a paper by Dr. Slade, on "The Humane Destruction of Animals." Prof. Storer's first paper is a report of analyses of 24 samples of commercial fertilizers, or of materials used in their manufacture. Ten samples of "Superphosphate," obtained in the Boston markets, showed an average value, by Prof. Storer's computation, of $35.75; while the average cost was $57 per ton! One of them, costing $60, was valued at $22, and contained 29 per cent. of sand! Prof. Storer remarks that "the continued sale, year after year, of enormous quantities of very poor fertilizers, shows conclusively that there must be hosts of farmers who are still unconscious that their money could be spent to better purpose." These analyses ought to open the eyes of the consumers of fertilizers in Eastern Massachusetts; but this kind of evidence is not appreciated by "hosts of farmers," and it would seem that the dishonest or incompetent manufacturers and vendors will all have time to get rich before their victims discover that they have been swindled.

VEGETINE

PURIFIES THE BLOOD and RESTORES THE HEALTH.

SEVENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

EAST MARSHFIELD, Aug. 22, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I am seventy-one years of age; have suffered many years with Kidney Complaint, weakness in my back and stomach. I was induced by friends to try your VEGETINE, and I think it the best medicine for weakness of the Kidneys I ever used. I have tried many remedies for this complaint, and never found so much relief as from the VEGETINE. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Many of my acquaintances have taken it, and I believe it to be good for all the complaints for which it is recommended.

Yours truly, JOSIAH H. SHERMAN.

A Source of Great Anxiety.

My daughter has been receiving great benefit from the use of VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite. N. H. TILDEN, Insurance and Real Estate Agent, No. 49 Sears Building.

BOSTON, MASS., June 5, 1872.

Recommend it Heartily.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 7, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and am convinced it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints. Yours respectfully,

MRS. MUNROE PARKER, 396 Athens street.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article and, after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours, U. L. PETTINGILL, Firm of S. M. Pettengill & Co., 10 State St., Boston. F19w4

VEGETINE extends its influence into every part of the human organism, commencing with its foundation, correcting diseased action and restoring vital powers, creating a healthy formation and purification of the blood, driving out disease, and leaving Nature to perform its alloted task. VEGETINE is sold by all druggists.

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 1st day of April, 1870, executed by John D. Deyo, widower, of the Town of Shawangunk, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, to Jane Smith, then the wife of Gardinier Smith, of the Town of Huriey, in the County and State aforesaid, to secure the payment of thirty-seven hundred dollars with interest thereon from the date thereof on the first day of April, 1872, and which mortgage was recorded in the Clerk's office of said County of Ulster in Book No. 110 of mortgages, on page 285, &c., on the 21st day of March, 1872, at 2½ o'clock P. M.

And whereas the said Jane Smith died intestate on the 11th day of January, 1874, leaving Cornelius C. Smith, John F. Smith, Richard C. Smith, Mary Dennis and Jeannette Van Wagenen, all above twenty-one years of age, as her only children and heirs-at-law, her surviving.

And whereas the said Cornelius C. Smith, John F. Smith, Richard C. Smith, Mary Dennis and Jeannette Van Wagenen, duly assigned and transferred all their right, title and interest in and to the said mortgage, and the bond accompanying the same, to their father, Gardinier Smith, by assignment dated the 21st day of January, 1874, duly recorded in the said Ulster County Clerk's office.

And whereas the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice is the sum of three thousand nine hundred and ninety-one dollars and sixteen cents, to-wit: $3,700 of principal and $291.16 of interest, and which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained and duly recorded as aforesaid and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, at Public Auction at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, on the 20th day of May, 1874, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day.

The premises are described in the mortgage as follows: All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate in the Town of Shawangunk aforesaid, and is known and distinguished as being the same farm now owned and occupied by John D. Deyo, and is described in three lots or parcels of land as follows, namely: Beginning with the lot the said John D. Deyo purchased from Willet Leuderman and his wife Sarah, and at a corner on the west side of the highway leading to Kingston, then as the needle pointed in 1820 north fifty degrees twenty minutes, west twenty-eight chains fourteen links to a corner of a lot of land sold to Joseph Eckert, then along the same south forty-two and three-quarter degrees west four chains seventy-one links, then north forty-five degrees forty-five minutes west seven chains to the center of a highway leading to Rutsonville; the two last courses are as the needle now points; then as it pointed in 1820 south twenty-nine degrees and forty-five minutes west seven chains and fifty links to a lot bought by Samuel Aldrich and others, then south fifty degrees twenty minutes east twenty-nine chains thirty links to a stone set by the westerly side of the aforesaid highway, then along the same to the beginning, containing thirty-six acres of land,

Also all that other lot purchased from Samuel Aldrich and others, and bounded as follows, namely: North by the above described lot, east by the public highway, south by lands of Peter Van Aken, west by the lands of Abram Vernooy, containing forty acres of land more or less.

Also all that other lot of land which is known as the same farm formerly owned by Jonathan Terwilliger, and is bounded as follows, namely: Beginning at a corner of land belonging to the heirs of William Rosekrans, from thence south seventy-five degrees and thirty minutes west two chains sixteen links to the line of the first described lot, then along the same north forty-seven degrees west ten chains thirty-one links, then north forty degrees and forty-five minutes east four chains and seventy-four links, then south thirty-two degrees forty-five minutes east eleven chains ninety-four links to the beginning, containing three acres and eight-tenths of an acre of land.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

or Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season.—Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and otherwise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Winter Treatment of Hens.

During cold weather is the time when most people complain that their hens do not lay.—Of course, to obtain eggs in winter requires more and better attention than in summer, but they can be had. Compliance with a few simple conditions is all that is necessary. In the first place, give your hens sunlight. Have their quarters so constructed that they can readily get into the direct rays of the sun; and make them in all respects warm and comfortable. Secondly give them varied food principally the various grains, the most desirable of which is corn, but alternate this with oats, buckwheat, wheat and potatoes. Potatoes boiled and mashed and fed to fowls warm is a most excellent winter food. I would recommend a part of the corn to be fed whole, and this at night, for the reason that it digests slowly, and they need something to stand by them through the long nights. In the morning feed ground food for the reason that the night's food has been all digested, and they need such food as they can appropriate at once. When the weather is very cold, wet up the meal with hot water, as it will warm them up and make them comfortable.

A very important part of the egg is in the shell, in fact an egg without a shell does not amount to much. Unless the hen has material for shell, the other preparations for eggs are pretty much void. In winter, hens have little chance to secure shell material for themselves, therefore it must be furnished for them. This can be done by pounding oyster or clam shells, and feeding them twice a week or so. I use bone meal, which is an excellent preparation, though more expensive than the others. Always give hens access to gravel.

A hen is domestic in its nature and habits, as a cow or sheep; and this principle must be respected. It is a true maxim, that "a happy hen is a laying hen." Keep your hens in fear, or in a strange place, or abuse them and they will not under such conditions be disposed to rear their progeny; hence they will lay few eggs. The policy of breeders generally is that of kindness, and it holds good here as elsewhere. Secure a good breed of fowls, feed well with the food we have already suggested, and feed regularly, varying occasionally with vegetables, and now and then some animal food. Water is of course good for a hen as for all animals, together with clean quarters and comfort all around.—In rearing chickens, keep them growing without interruption, by feeding all they will bear until they have attained maturity. They will be larger and lay sooner. Young hens are best for laying. A good cross is as good as a single blood; but all crosses are not equally good. The pure bloods are safest.—Get these and abide by them, getting fresh infusions of the same strain from abroad thro' the male. In this way hen keeping for eggs can be made both safe and profitable.—D. C. Noxon, Roxbury, Del. Co.

How it Happened.

A DRUMMER IN A SCRAPE—THE WAY HE GOT OUT OF IT.

At Big Creek, Arkansas, they have a peculiar fashion which sometimes proves embarrassing. As there is no preacher within thirty miles, the way for marrying is by kissing across a table. Recently a New York drummer was out there. He put up at a private house, and became quite intimate. One evening he was fooling around one of the girls, trying the extent of her sweet temper, when she gave his whiskers a pull and ran. He followed. She got the table between them.—He chased her around it several times. When out of breath he stopped on the other side, made a wild plunge, caught her in his arms and gave her a hearty kiss. She then sat down on the sofa and they talked pleasantly for a couple of hours—he thinking it singular that she should sit up so late.

At last she said, "Don't you think it's about time we went to bed?"

"I guess you are right," he remarked, "let's go."

She lit a candle, and he was about to do the same, when she said, "I reckon one's enough. One candle will light two folks to bed."

"Undoubtedly it would, when those two persons occupy the same room. But your candle won't illuminate my chamber."

"Ain't we going to occupy the same room? Ain't we married?"

"Ain't we what?" shouted the gentleman.

"Married! Didn't you kiss me across the table? That married us."

A cold sweat spread over the drummer.—He knew that if he said he wasn't married to her she would make an outcry, and then her loving and much-tobacco-consuming father would arise in his wrath and carve him into cutlets, and her brothers would bring down their shot-guns and empty the contents into him. He must be strategic. He must put her off. So he said:

"Fairest of your sex, permit me to remark that I did not know that kissing across the table constituted a marriage ceremony. But I am content. I have never seen one who so completely filled my ideal of a beautiful, sweet, loving and modest woman. However, I would never think of holding you to this marriage until I had asked the permission of your father to pay my addresses to you. To-morrow, at dinner, when the entire family are present, I will propose for your fair hand."

This satisfied the lady, and, after bestowing upon him a fervent kiss, she went to her room, and he went to his. He packed his carpet-bag, took off his boots, and made tracks for the nearest railroad station. He didn't feel entirely safe until he had reached St. Louis.—He hasn't informed his wife of this little adventure. He's afraid she might write out to Arkansas for the facts in the case, and then he might get arrested for bigamy. Women sometimes won't listen to reason, you know.

Sanded Superphosphate.

The "Bulletin of the Bussey Institute," just issued, is a pamphlet of 80 pages, and is chiefly occupied with three papers by Prof. Storer, giving account of various agricultural chemical investigations, and with a paper by Dr. Slade, on "The Humane Destruction of Animals." Prof. Storer's first paper is a report of analyses of 24 samples of commercial fertilizers, or of materials used in their manufacture. Ten samples of "Superphosphate," obtained in the Boston markets, showed an average value, by Prof. Storer's computation, of $35.75; while the average cost was $57 per ton! One of them, costing $60, was valued at $22, and contained 29 per cent. of sand! Prof. Storer remarks that "the continued sale, year after year, of enormous quantities of very poor fertilizers, shows conclusively that there must be hosts of farmers who are still unconscious that their money could be spent to better purpose." These analyses ought to open the eyes of the consumers of fertilizers in Eastern Massachusetts; but this kind of evidence is not appreciated by "hosts of farmers," and it would seem that the dishonest or incompetent manufacturers and vendors will all have time to get rich before their victims discover that they have been swindled.

VEGETINE

PURIFIES THE BLOOD and RESTORES THE HEALTH.

SEVENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

EAST MARSHFIELD, Aug. 22, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I am seventy-one years of age; have suffered many years with Kidney Complaint, weakness in my back and stomach. I was induced by friends to try your VEGETINE, and I think it the best medicine for weakness of the Kidneys I ever used. I have tried many remedies for this complaint, and never found so much relief as from the VEGETINE. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Many of my acquaintances have taken it, and I believe it to be good for all the complaints for which it is recommended.

Yours truly, JOSIAH H. SHERMAN.

A Source of Great Anxiety.

My daughter has been receiving great benefit from the use of VEGETINE. Her well being health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite. N. H. TILDEN,
Insurance and Real Estate Agent, No. 49 Sears Building.

Recommend it Heartily.

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 7, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and am convinced it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints. Yours respectfully,
MRS. MUNROE PARKER, 396 Athens street.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article and, after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours,
U. L. PETTINGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettengill & Co., 10 State St., Boston. F19w4

VEGETINE extends its influence into every part of the human organism, commencing with its foundation, correcting diseased action and restoring vital powers, creating a healthy formation and purification of the blood, driving out disease, and leaving Nature to perform its allotted task. VEGETINE is sold by all druggists.

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 1st day of April, 1870, executed by John D. Deyo, widower, of the Town of Shawangunk, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, to Jane Smith, then the wife of Gardinier Smith, of the Town of Hurley, in the County and State aforesaid, to secure the payment of thirty-seven hundred dollars with interest thereon from the date thereof on the first day of April, 1872, and which mortgage was recorded in the Clerk's office of said County of Ulster in Book No. 110 of mortgages, on page 285, &c., on the 21st day of March, 1872, at 2½ o'clock P. M.

And whereas the said Jane Smith died intestate on the 11th day of January, 1874, leaving Cornelius C. Smith, John F. Smith, Richard C. Smith, Mary Dennis and Jeannette Van Wagenen, all above twenty-one years of age, as her only children and heirs-at-law, her surviving.

And whereas the said Cornelius C. Smith, John F. Smith, Richard C. Smith, Mary Dennis and Jeannette Van Wagenen, duly assigned and transferred all their right, title and interest in and to the said mortgage, and the bond accompanying the same, to their father, Gardinier Smith, by assignment dated the 21st day of January, 1874, duly recorded in the said Ulster County Clerk's office.

And whereas the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice is the sum of three thousand nine hundred and ninety-one dollars and sixteen cents, to-wit: $3,700 of principal and $291.16 of interest, and which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained and duly recorded as aforesaid and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, at Public Auction at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, on the 20th day of May, 1874, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day.

The premises are described in the mortgage as follows: All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate in the Town of Shawangunk aforesaid, and is known and distinguished as being the same farm now owned and occupied by John D. Deyo, and is described in three lots or parcels of land as follows, namely: Beginning with the lot the said John D. Deyo purchased from Willet Lenderman and his wife Sarah, and at a corner on the west side of the highway leading to Kutsonville; the two last courses are as the needle now points; then as it pointed in 1820 north fifty degrees twenty minutes, west twenty-eight chains fourteen links to a corner of a lot of land sold to Joseph Eckert, then along the same south forty-two and three-quarter degrees west four chains seventy-one links, then north forty-five degrees forty-five minutes west seven chains to the center of a highway leading to Kutsonville; the two last courses are as the needle now points; then as it pointed in 1820 south twenty-nine degrees and forty-five minutes west seven chains and fifty links to a lot bought by Samuel Aldrich and others, then south fifty degrees twenty minutes east twenty-nine chains thirty links to a stone set by the westerly side of the aforesaid highway, then along the same to the beginning, containing thirty-six acres of land,

Also all that other lot purchased from Samuel Aldrich and others, and bounded as follows, namely: North by the above described lot, east by the public highway, south by lands of Peter Van Aken, west by the lands of Abram Vernooy, containing forty acres of land more or less.

Also all that other lot of land which is known as the same farm formerly owned by Jonathan Terwilliger, and is bounded as follows, namely: Beginning at a corner of land belonging to the heirs of William Rosekrans, from thence south seventy-five degrees and thirty minutes west two chains sixteen links to the line of the first described lot, then along the same north forty-seven degrees west ten chains thirty-one links, then north forty degrees and forty-five minutes east four chains and seventy-four links, then south thirty-two degrees forty-five minutes east eleven chains ninety-four links to the beginning, containing three acres and eight-tenths of an acre of land.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

VOLUME FOR 1874.

THE CULTIVATOR AND COUNTRY GENTLEMEN, for the past forty years, has ranked, both in this country and abroad, as the Standard Journal of American Agriculture. The Editors and Proprietors, in addition to their own personal labors, are regularly assisted by a very large number of special Correspondents and Regular Contributors, among whom are included many Leading Agriculturists, in all parts of the country, east and west—and by over Five Hundred Occasional and Voluntary Writers, directly in the ranks of the best Farmers and Horticulturists of nearly every state in the Union. With the co-operation of so large a corps of practical men, this journal is intended to possess exceptional value as the chosen Medium of Intercommunication among all classes interested in the Products and Fertility of the land—those who cultivate and those who consume—the buyer and shipper, as well as the first owner of the crop—breeders of improved animals and their customers—manufacturers of improved machinery and those who purchase and employ it—nurserymen and fruit raisers—and, especially, to supply fuller and better data as to the progress, prospects and returns of each successive season, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and when to Sell.

TERMS—THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly, on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance:—One copy, one year, $2.50; Four copies, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club; Ten copies, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club.

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Saturday Morning, Feb. 28.

Tweed read the account of the demonstrative solemnities of Smith's funeral with tears in his eyes. Owing to a previous engagement he could not be on hand himself; yet his heart was with his old "pard." Said he, with an emotion credible to his large, breezy nature, "Like David and Jonathan, Smith and I were lovely in our lives and in death we shall not be divided." As to the latter clause of the quotation almost every one will agree with Tweed.

The demonstrations made upon legislative bodies by the women do not seem to meet with much success. When the earnest temperance ladies of Ohio petitioned their legislators to have an hour of prayer they replied they were too busy; and so the Senate hasn't time to bother with the petitions relating to temperance. But if the women's crusade continues the Senators will have a fine time of it, as the petitions have been coming in at the rate of fifty a day, and will soon be three deep on the floor of the Senate chamber.

Judge Darell of Louisiana means to look out for and provide against the traditional "rainy day." And at Mrs. Myra Gaines' expense. Norton, to whom Mrs. Gaines was referred for the conditions upon which the Judge would consent to sit and hear one of her land-suits, told the lady that the Judge would perform his official functions on consideration of the gift to him of some $20,000 and every alternate lot in the city of New Orleans for the possession of which she brought suit. When his Honor is impeached, as by a mere chance he may be, her testimony to that effect may be of service to the country.

The intellectual department of the Herald seems to be much akin to Mark Twain's undertaker's pet corpse, whose head was so large, mentally speaking, that a fever in one corner of it affected the opposite corner less than "an insurrection in Arizona affects the Atlantic states." After proving beyond all chance of successful dispute that Mr. Gladstone's work is forever done, and that Mr. Forster only is his competent successor in the leadership of the Liberals, the Herald fearlessly and sweetly adds: "At the same time we shall not be surprised if the old longing shall come back, and we find this brilliant and gifted minister once again controlling England by his courage and his eloquence, and winning anew a popularity and a power which he used alone for the peace and glory of his country." Ah!

Butler declares he is a friend of newspapers as they should be, but not as they are. They are the willing, prostituted vehicles of so much that is pernicious and altogether bad in the present day that Ben. feels it his duty as a censor and guardian of public and domestic morals, to lift up his voice sorrowfully in protest. Not to allude to the fact that big B.'s should buzz in bodies, Butler should be with Bismarck. The sour old German Prince premier is also down on the newspapers. His little bill before the Reichstag provides for the police supervision of all journals published in the Empire, and the rigid exclusion or excision of all matter that don't happen to please his doughty Highness. Perhaps in the interest of sound morality and true blue political orthodoxy, Prince Ben would like to have it so here. And that would be too cruel—for the gratuitous and flattering notices of an untrammeled press have made him all he is. Besides, their constant publication of the worst things he can say about the newspapers should appeal to the mercy of this later Chronicle. There was an older Butler who "did not remember Joseph, but forgot him." What a wonder is inherited tendency.

Capt. Gillett.

The renomination of Capt. Gillett by the Republicans of Denning is very welcome news. They can return no better man than he for Supervisor. Gallant, sturdy, honest Capt. Gillett is a true leader for reform, and always ready for duty.

Too Big.

Congress had better keep out of the reformatory business, save in a purely private and personal way. The liquor traffic is bad enough, but just now the ladies are paying their devoirs to that with a degree of success that cannot be imitated; leave it with them. The proposition to appoint a commission upon one form of immorality involves the propriety of doing the same thing on any and all others. Gambling is as serious an evil as intemperance and female extravagance helps to promote both. Indigestion is the mother of indescribable unhappiness and various forms of mischief, and hot soda-water is a doubtful benefit to the insane imbiber. We cannot possibly have a commission on these as well as a million other distinct phases of vice and suffering. So it will be seen that Senators really must restrain themselves; else we shall yet organize the most stupendous executive elephant ever heard of—the Bureau of Detailed Reforms for a Stricken and Sinful Universe—which would be too big a thing altogether.

The Brodhead Case and the Duty of the People.

While it is unfortunate that the Referee in the Schoonmaker and Cooper case could not give another hearing until the second of April, still such substantial progress was made that the people of Ulster county, who are the principal parties interested, can form an intelligent opinion as to the conduct of the suit and the merits of the Brodhead case. The evidence presented makes it clear that it would be the grossest disregard of justice and even of common decency to do other than press the case to the end.

We have given the fullest possible report of the testimony from day to day. The public must bear in mind that this is not a trial of the Brodhead case, hence the counsel for the county were restricted in the evidence, their most important being yet in reserve for the trial of the cause proper. But the testimony a limited very effectually disposes of the principal points of the case.

As to the animus of the case: John C. Brodhead was shown to be a defaulter to the county of Ulster in the sum of $100,000, in round numbers, and The Freeman insisted that he should be prosecuted. The counsel appointed, Schoonmaker and Cooper, were ready to try everybody else but Brodhead. When the prosecution was urged by The Freeman it was asserted that it was a persecution of an unfortunate man pressed by Thomas Cornell and his son-in-law, S. D. Coykendall, who sought to get Brodhead in a tight spot in order to "squeeze" him into selling property below its value, and it was charged he had been compelled to sell his railroad bonds under price through fear of going to prison. And yet Mr. Coykendall, being brought upon the stand, swears that he offered to loan Brodhead $300,000 to meet his deficiency, thus giving him ample time, if he could produce reasonable securities. Is there another man in the whole county who would have carried such an amount for another? This evidence clearly shows Mr. Brodhead was under no necessity of selling his bonds if he had the securities he ought to have had in his hands as Treasurer. Besides disposing of the charge of persecution, this fact furnishes additional evidence that Brodhead had neither the cash nor the assets with which to make his county account good, and points unmistakably to what has been clear to many—that the claims of $25,000 for stolen bonds and $27,000 loaned on the railroad mortgage, were after-thoughts born of necessity.

Regarding the $25,000 package alleged to have been stolen, no reasonable man can fail to see that Mr. Foland's testimony, stinted, careful and tinctured as it plainly is, points irresistibly to the conclusion that that package was taken by Mr. Brodhead himself. Foland swears the package was put up at 10 o'clock at night, which implies some special haste. Mr. Brodhead goes to New York the next morning. Why put up a package so late at night unless for him to take with him? He goes to the city and returns and is taken sick; while sick he is delirious, and Mr. Foland swears he asks him about the bonds, and he assures him they are all right, "supposing they are in New York." Why did he suppose they were in New York? Mr. Foland's "supposing" can be explained in only one of two ways; first, he either supposed they were in New York because Brodhead was to have taken, and did take, them with him to New York; or, second, Foland had, upon Brodhead's talking about the package when delirious, examined the safe and not finding the bonds there concluded they were in New York. If Mr. Foland had had any doubt where those bonds were, the most natural, if not the very first, thing he would have done when they were spoken of, would have been to examine the safe. He does not swear that he did not look for them; if he did not, he was either certain where they were, or he acted in a most unnatural way, as any one else under the circumstances would have ransacked the safe. Mr. Everson's affidavit (formerly published), but whose substance he was not permitted to repeat, asserted that Foland told him he knew who took the bonds. And Mr. Tuthill swears he was under the impression Foland said there were no bonds in the safe, except the $39,300, when the Committee commenced their labors.

County Treasurer Hasbrouck's testimony clearly establishes the fact that the coupons on all the new bonds except on five $100 bonds and one $500 bond were paid. This establishes, by Brodhead's own reasoning, that the bonds were not stolen, and disposes of all the sophistry about the coupons.

As regards the $27,000 mortgage the point is clearly established that Brodhead was not authorized to loan upon it, while Mr. Hecker's testimony indicates (which in fact was also once asserted by Mr. Brodhead over his own signature) that Brodhead bought the mortgage, Mr. H. says for $5,000, and Mr. Hecker was unable on examining the railroad company's books to find any entries of any loan by Brodhead to the company. Mr. Tuthill's testimony is very emphatic and indisputable that the New Bond Committee authorized the loan only upon the note of the President of the R. & O. R. R. Co., with the mortgage assigned to the Committee, besides railroad bonds at fifty cents on the dollar as additional security; and Mr. Brodhead's claim to have loaned $27,000 on the mortgage is nothing less than an assertion that he violated the express and peremptory commands of the New Bond Committee. Mr. Tuthill's testimony on this point is corroborated by other members of the Committee.

We have thus briefly sketched the main points of the evidence produced at this sitting of the Referee. It points to the inevitable reopening of the case. Now let the committee see that it is prosecuted to the bitter end. The public expect it, and will not be satisfied until the whole of the huge mass of corruption and villainy that has polluted the air of Ulster county so long is fully exposed and the rascals condignly punished. Whoever they are, let them be brought before the public and condemned by the popular voice. This case cannot be abandoned by the county without disgrace to itself and the encouragement and continuance of knavery. As to the old bounty frauds, with which it was sought to clog the investigation of these latter-day frauds, we not only urge but demand a full and free investigation, and we earnestly hope every Supervisor elected on Tuesday next will be instructed by his constituents to insist upon the matter being probed to the very bottom. And as an especial effort was made in the cross-examination of Mr. Tuthill by Mr. Fowler to create the impression that something new was to be exposed as to the alleged frauds of March and November, 1866, we reprint, as our contribution towards the investigation, the schedule published by us in 1871 and 1872, and with which we challenge a comparison with anything that Schoonmaker and Cooper, John C. Brodhead, Fowler & Co. may produce. Herewith we reproduce from our files of those years the distribution of bonds or their proceeds in the spring and fall of 1866:

MARCH, 1866.

|---|---|
| George Chambers | $120 |
| F. S. McKinstry | 150 |
| D. L. Decker | 200 |
| John C. Brodhead | 2,030 |
| Masten & Brodhead | 300 |
| Thad. Hait | 150 |
| Jesse Lyons | 90 |
| Isaac W. Longyear | 90 |
| Calvin Hoornbeck | 1,2 0 |
| William Lounsbery | 100 |
| N. W. Watson | 150 |

NOVEMBER, 1866.

|---|---|
| William Parks | $ 80 |
| J. T. Decker | 100 |
| Calvin Hoornbeck | 800 |
| J. C. Brodhead | 2,000 |
| Thad. Hait | 1,0 0 |
| F. S. McKinstry | 1 000 |
| Joseph H. Tuthill | 1,000 |
| Isaac W. Longyear | 1,000 |
| Jesse Lyons | 1,000 |
| George Chambers | 150 |
| N. W. Watson | 1,000 |

It may be that some of the above are susceptible of explanations. If they are let us have them; but we thoroughly condemn random assertions and vague charges; and we demand of Messrs. John C. Brodhead, Charles A. Fowler, Kingston Journal & Co. that they come down with their facts and figures instead of indulging in vague innuendoes and cloudy aspersions. Let us know everybody who has cheated the county, the amount, the time, and the occasion.

We may add, for the information of the late distinguished counsel for the county, Mr. John C. Brodhead, and the Journal, that neither of them has yet referred to the fact that in the same year Calvin Hoornbeck, then Treasurer, and John C. Brodhead, his deputy, appropriated $10,000 each from the county treasury, over and above the distribution above published.

Choke Down those Speeches.

Sweet spirits in Washington, hear our prayer. Fewer speeches, let us have fewer speeches and more majority votes in the right direction—that is its mournful burden. Logan is getting ready. In the lonely recesses of his room, wrapped in profound contemplation and saturated with silence, broken only now and then by the cry of a famished hackman or the song of a belated Congressman, he is making his mighty preparations. Finance is to be his lofty theme; and inasmuch as the less one knows about a given subject the more majestically can soar the able-bodied eagles of his imagination, the Senator as to his choice is favored of the gods. The way to resume, said Mr. Greeley, is to resume. The way to talk about inflation is to inflate. The Graphic balloon was some time in getting filled, and Logan is greater than the Graphic balloon. In the end he will swear violently for a few moments and then rise toward the cerulean firmament. Some forty-eight hours afterwards he will come down, exhausted and gasping for air. Meanwhile the Senate will wait, the House will wait, the country will wait. If Senator Logan shall prove anything at all, he will prove that we should redeem our broken promises to pay by issuing a fresh batch of neatly printed lies. If he fails to make the people believe that such a course contains the cream of honesty, then the time will have been wasted, and the nation two days nearer bankruptcy and disgrace. We do not need to be reminded that it is a good deal easier to keep blowing up Congress than to submit a plan for meeting the financial situation, at once coherent and complete; we know that much. After all let the managers of the monetary gas-works understand that the people will not have more inflation. The plea that the South and West need more currency deceives nobody; we all know that every dollar of a new issue would find its way to Wall street by express, and the West and South would not see the color of that money until they raise something to buy it with. And even then, the appreciation of values would offset its usefulness. Gentlemen legislators, stop talking for buncombe and fix your eyes on hard-pan.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Platt, the champion document sender, voted for the franking bill, of course.

—An Evansville cow chewed tobacco and died, which should incline human beings to eschew the weed.

—Is Harry Hill serious or not in that offer to the ladies? It looks to us like a sharp advertising dodge for his famous saloon.

—The President says it was self-esteem which suggested the Centennial Exposition. Well, we were mistaken; we thought it was patriotism—and Cameron.

—The money appropriated for teachers' salaries in the District of Columbia has been used by the Board of Public Works, and the teachers, to the disgrace of the nation, are suffering for their pay.

—Sheridan Shook is a prominent candidate for President Smith's position. Hank's death has certainly shook up the politicians in a very lively way, and Sheridan might as well go up with the rest. Hank was really a pivotal man.

—The Tribune commends Senator Carpenter as a skillful presiding officer. It is probable that he and Husted, both considered a little disputable, will do more business than any presiding officers either the Senate or our own Assembly has had for years.

—We have recently read of nothing more inhuman than the attempt to burn the Rochester school houses. Had the attempt been successful hundreds of school children would have been burned to death. The man capable of such a deed must be a fiend or lunatic.

—The Cleveland Leader thinks this temperance movement must afford a great deal of satisfaction to the woman's rights advocates, and that they have accidentally stumbled upon the only means by which their waning cause could have been revived. This is unkind and ungallant, and we suspect a sly slur cast upon a movement originated with the purest motives.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

ALBANY, Feb. 27.

BILLS PASSED.

Consolidating the governments of the city and county of New York, and further regulating the same.

Amending the act entitled of the county treasurers and requiring an additional bond from county treasurers.

GENERAL ORDERS.

In Committee of the Whole, Mr. DAYTON in the chair, the following bills were considered:

In relation to the collection of taxes in the city and county of New York, and amending laws in relation to the equalization of taxes among the several counties of this state. Progressed.

Authorizing the Boards of Supervisors of the several counties of the state, except New York and Kings, to contract for the public printing required by law to be done in their respective counties. Third reading.

Mr. DICKINSON in the chair.

For the protection of factory children and other persons.

Mr. WOODIN moved to amend the second section of the bill so as to provide that no child under the age of fourteen shall be employed for more than ten hours a day or more than sixty hours a week. Carried.

Mr. JOHNSON moved to amend the second section so as to prevent the employment of children on any legal holiday.

Mr. Johnson's amendment was adopted.

Mr. LOWERY moved to strike out the whole of the third section. The section regulates the matter of the fire-escape, trap-doors, shafting, &c.

Mr. LOWERY'S motion was adopted.

On motion of WOOD the bill was then ordered to a third reading.

Mr. WOOD, amending act authorizing the formation of railroad corporations.

Adjourned until 7:30 P. M. this (Friday) evening.

EVENING SESSION.

BILLS REPORTED.

By Mr. WOOD, from the Finance Committee, relative to equalizing the assessment and collection of taxes. By Mr. BOOTH, from the Committee on Literature, favorably, to Howland College for the education of young women. Also favorably to the bill for the education and care of deaf mutes.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. WOOD introduced a bill relative to quarantine, defining the qualifications, duties and powers of the Health Officer for the harbor of the port of New York.

The Senate having gone through the order of business, Senator Johnson moved to take up again the order of Resolutions and moved that when the Senate adjourn this evening it adjourn to Monday evening, half-past seven o'clock. He stated that the action of certain members of the majority voting against adjourning over until Monday, while they really had their carpet-bags packed and were ready to leave by the next train, was all buncombe. The manner in which the entire order of business was passed through with this evening showed that the Senate is entirely up with its business, and nothing will be gained by holding a session on Saturday.

Mr. WOOD replied that if a session could be held on Saturday he thought the Finance Committee would be able to report the appropriation bill on Monday. He offered an amendment for a final adjournment April 16th, 1874.

The amendment was made concurrent and after various propositions were voted down it was finally adopted.

A resolution to adjourn over until Monday was offered and adopted by a viva voce vote.

Adjourned.

ASSEMBLY.

BILLS PASSED.

To enable husbands and wives to testify for each other in criminal cases.

Mr. HAZELTON moved to recommit with instructions to strike out the clause making the bill dependent upon a husband or wife charged with crime being offered as a witness in their own behalf.

The amendment was agreed to, the bill amended as directed and passed.

The bill as amended provides that whenever a husband or wife shall, for a criminal offence, be under indictment, or examination or trial, the wife, or the husband in the alternative, shall be a competent witness in his or her behalf. The bill takes effect immediately.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. DICKSON, to protect purchasers of sewing machines.

Mr. ALVORD, requiring trustees of school districts to give notice of taxation for school purposes.

Mr. BURRITT, in relation to Savings Banks.

Mr. MACKIN, for the relief of Wm. Baxter and David Dobbin.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. VEDDER, that the House adjourn at 2 o'clock until Monday evening at 7½ o'clock. Agreed to—46 to 42.

The SPEAKER presented the annual report of Wm. B. Taylor, late State Engineer.

Adjourned to Monday evening at half-past seven o'clock.

—An Oswego parent writes an indignant letter to the Oswego Times announcing that a lady teacher in the public school, to which his daughter was sent, wears a corset, and wanting to know whether the Board of Education can afford to encourage "such an influence" upon the tender minds of the young. The daughter, it appears, has fallen in love with the teacher's figure and she wants a corset.

TELEGRAPH.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN

FOREIGN.

SOUTH IN AMERICA.

Cholera in Buenos Ayres.

LISBON, Feb. 27.—Late advices from Buenos Ayres have been received here. Cholera continued to rage with unabated violence in the city, and many persons were dying.

THE TEMPERANCE CRUSADE.

Increasing Interest in Ithaca.

ITHACA, Feb. 27.—The interest in the temperance crusade inaugurated here by Dio Lewis this morning is growing. One of the largest meetings ever assembled in a public hall of this place is being held this evening. Addresses by leading citizens are being delivered. There is no excitement, but quiet enthusiasm and determination to try the efficacy of the new movement in suppressing the great evil of intemperance. A daily union prayer-meeting was begun this afternoon, conducted by the best ladies of the place, who are thoroughly enlisted in the great work.

THE WORK IN THE WEST.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The prayer temperance movement began at Ottumwa, Iowa, to-day.

At Fort Madison, Iowa, a few days ago the saloon keepers received postal cards warning them to cease operations or they will be visited and prayed with to-day. The cards were afterwards ascertained to have been sent by some person as a joke. A number of ladies hearing of it organized praying bands and to-day visited three saloons and held services in each. In one they were met by crowds of loafers, who danced while they sang and sang and drank while they prayed, but the women stood their ground and prayed until the confusion ceased.

At Atlantic, Iowa, the women have organized and will visit the saloons to-morrow.

COLUMBUS, O., 27.—Ladies' temperance prayer meetings, held daily, still draw large houses, the one to-day being the largest of the season. The executive committee of ladies has been increased to about two hundred, but no active campaign has been agreed on. Mass meetings, one for men and one for women, are to be held on Sunday.

A BEGINNING IN PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—This afternoon a prayer meeting was held in the Baptist chapel in Seventh street, in the extreme northern section of the city. At the opening about two hundred ladies were present. Mrs. Doctor French, a well-known lady, presided. Prior to the opening exercises reporters were requested to withdraw and the proceedings were conducted secretly. The number of ladies increased and by four o'clock nearly 1,000 were in and around the chapel. The ladies, after long discussion, decided to commence a crusade against the liquor dealers at once and for that purpose they delegated twenty of their numbers, who proceeded to three saloons in the vicinity, around which they sang and prayed. The proprietors had heard that something of the kind was in progress and when they saw the ladies approaching they closed their doors. The first saloon visited was that of Chris. Hogenlochens, Susquehanna avenue and Fifth street. They met the proprietor and the following conversation ensued:

"Can we hold a prayer meeting?"

"Certainly not. I have no room in which to hold a prayer-meeting."

"Can we pray in a bed-room?"

"No; it would disturb the boarders."

"Do you sell drink?"

"I do not to drunkards. I pay my license and I am protected by law."

They then sang and prayed around the establishment and left. The saloons of A. Kramer and John Oberholser in the vicinity were then visited. The doors were closed at the latter place, and they sang and prayed at a side door. A number of roughs gathered, who ridiculed the proceedings so much that one of the ladies wept. The proprietor called the police, but they refused to interfere. After leaving the saloons the delegation returned to the chapel, where the meeting was anxiously awaiting them. When Mrs. Dr. French, who led the delegation, entered the door she stretched out both hands and cried, "Victory is ours! We have won." After singing and praying, the meeting adjourned. Numbers of prominent saloons on Chestnut street to-day received written notices which stated that the ladies in a body would soon call on them. The attempt to-day was spasmodic, and the majority of people do not think the movement will succeed in this city.

BUTLER'S TRIUMPH.

Confirmation of Simmons.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—William A. Simmons was to-day confirmed as Collector of the Port of Boston. The vote stood 27 to 17, nothwithstanding both Boutwell and Sumner spoke against the nomination.

STRONG LANGUAGE FROM THE HUB.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—The Journal and Advertiser of to-morrow editorially express grave dissatisfaction at the nomination and confirmation of Simmons as Collector of the Port. The Journal says: "We have a long battle before us, and it is no use to issue sounding manifestatoes, publish plans of operations or forecast definite results. All we know is that the Republican party of Massachusetts will not stand this evil and disgrace sought to be, whether intentionally or not, inflicted upon us at Washington."

The Advertiser says: "The President undoubtedly made the nomination upon the misrepresentations of two members of the Massachusetts delegation, to whom Simmons can be serviceable, and one of whom had further need of his services, and should, when informed that the nomination was distasteful to the entire community, have rectified his error. His refusal to do this has forced upon this community an obnoxious officer against the judgment of both Senators from Massachusetts, against the judgment of eight of eleven members of the House from Massachusetts, against the almost unanimous voice of the citizens of Boston of both parties who do business at the Custom House, against the moral sense of the entire commonwealth. This is an invasion of our rights for which no precedent will be found in the political history of this country, an outrage which cannot be many times repeated without destroying not only the political party which tolerates it, but the harmony of the state as surely."

BROTHERHOOD OF ENGINEERS.

Their Secret Session Continued.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—The convention of Locomotive Engineers is still in session. Secrecy is still maintained and positive information of its proceedings cannot be obtained. It is rumored that a general strike has been decided upon and that the details are being arranged. It is also stated that there is considerable opposition to this course and that if the non-strikers do not carry their point they will split from the Brotherhood and form a separate organization.

THE KENTUCKY STRIKERS.

Appeal of a Mill Owner for Protection.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 27.—The proprietor of Swift's Rolling Mills at Newport, Ky., has to-night telegraphed Gov. Leslie of Kentucky for protection to enable him to resume work at his rolling mills; also to the Secretary of War for a detachment of soldiers from Newport barracks to guard the boats he is constructing for the government.

A GRAND OLD CHARACTER TO BE VINDICATED.

Old Zach Not Drunk.

DETROIT, Feb. 27.—Senator Chandler has brought suit against the Detroit Free Press for libel, claiming $100,000 damages for an alleged libel in a special dispatch from Washington, Feb. 20th, charging Chandler with intoxication and disgraceful conduct in the Senate Chamber.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For Saturday in the Middle and Eastern States stationary or rising barometer, northwest winds and clear weather.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.

Mr. BAYARD, the from Finance Committee, reported a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate what if any additional legislation is required to prevent defalcations by officers receiving and disposing of United States revenue stamps and public money, and whether persons having custody of such stamps and money should not in all cases be required to give bonds with securities for proper execution of their duty. Passed.

The bill to provide for appointment of a commission in regard to alcoholic liquor traffic, being unfinished business at the expiration of the morning hour yesterday, was taken up and the amendment of Merrill appropriating $10,000 for expenses of the commission, agreed to.

Pending discussion the morning hour expired, and the House bill in regard to the Centennial Exhibition was taken up.

Mr. SUMNER offered a substitute for the House bill providing that the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of American independence shall be national in its character; that the arrangements shall be left in the hands of the original commission, and shall be carried out to conform to the provisions of the act of Congress; and that no money shall be appropriated from the national treasury on account of the celebration. In advocating the adoption of the amendment, Mr. Sumner said that one of the first votes of the commission went to show that the celebration should be national in its character and not international, as they provided that it should be open from the anniversary of the battle of Lexington to the anniversary of the battle of Yorktown; but a change came over the guiding spirits, and they now wanted to have a world's fair. The two ideas were inconsistent, inharmonious twins bound together by an unnatural ligament like those two now lying on the surgeon's table in Philadelphia. England would be invited to participate, and taking her seat on the centennial bench would listen to the arraignment of George III. and his tyrannical qualifications. Italy would have representatives of her two sovereigns, Victor Emanuel and Pius IX. Germany would have a representative of her Emperor, who believed in right divine. Austria would be represented by her descendent of Joseph II., who declined an introduction to Benjamin Franklin, giving as a reason that his business was to be a royalist. Kings and queens, emperors, princes and potentates would be invited, and this republic would be expected to welcome them. He did not think they should be invited, as it would not be consistent with our own self-respect. Another third, a world's fair here would be different from one in Europe. Exhibitors would not have the same number of people as are drawn by European exhibitions. We had but forty million people in this country, while the world's fairs of London, Paris and Vienna had all of Europe to patronize them. It would be premature to attempt to hold a world's fair here only three years after that at Vienna. He did not think the country able to incur the expense of this exhibition.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN, of New Jersey, said the country was abundantly able to incur the expense, and it was appropriate that the event should be commemorated in a manner that all mankind might participate.

Mr. SCOTT advocated the passage of the bill, saying if Congress appropriate three millions, half payable this year and the other half next year, the exhibition can be made a success.

Mr. CARPENTER said on Monday next after the pending bill should be disposed of he would ask the Senate to take up for reference his bill in regard to a new election in Louisiana, and would ask the indulgence of the Senate to enable him to submit some remarks thereon.

The Senate then adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. SHANKS of Indiana entered a motion to reconsider the vote of yesterday rejecting the bill to revise the franking privilege, to be called up hereafter.

The House then at 4:30 adjourned till to-morrow.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—There are 1,450 granges in Indiana, an average of sixteen to each county.

—The temperance movement has reached Indianapolis.

—Mrs. Sarah E. Beard of Fayettville, N. Y., has donated $5,000 to Hamilton College as a fund for the aid of needy students.

—An anonymous New Yorker sends $500 conscience money to the Treasury, which, he says, is due on account of a custom suit begun in the United States District Court by the United States against the York Street Flax Spinning Company to recover $100,000 in gold for alleged undervaluation of invoices of linen goods. The company is English and the suit is against its agents here.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF ULSTER. Frederick Kronnick against Albert Burhans, and Caroline Burhans, his wife, Andrew Dodge, James Murphy and Charles Dreyfus.

In pursuance and by virtue of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made in the above entitled action on the 26th day of February, 1874, the subscriber, referee for that purpose duly appointed, will sell at public auction at the Court House in the city of Kingston, in the county of Ulster on the twenty-eighth day of March, 1874, at ten o'clock in the forenoon the real estate and mortgaged premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows, to-wit:

All that tract or parcel of land situate in the city of Kingston, county of Ulster, being known and designated as lot number two hundred and sixty-four (264) on map of the lands of John O'Reilly made by D. T. Van Buren, 1870, bounded as follows: In front on O'Reilly street, in rear by lot number two hundred and fifty-eight on said map, southwesterly by lot number two hundred and sixty-five on said map, northeasterly by lot number two hundred and sixty-three and part of lot number two hundred and sixty, said lot being fifty feet front and rear and one hundred feet deep, being same lot conveyed to said Albert Burhans by John R. Freer and wife and recorded in book No. 172 of deeds, pages 571 &c., together with all the machines and machinery in the buildings on said premises. Also all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Kingston aforesaid and designated on a map of the lands of John O'Reilly made by D. T. VanBuren, 1870, as lot number 257 and being forty feet in front and forty feet in rear and one hundred feet deep; it being the whole of said lot No. 257, excepting a strip ten feet in width, running from front to rear of said lot and lying between the piece of land hereby sold and lot number 258. Said lot as hereby conveyed is bounded as follows: Northerly by Hoffman street, southerly by lot No. 265, westerly by lot No. 256 and easterly by said strip of land ten feet wide, reserved as afore-said. Being the same lot conveyed to said Albert Burhans by John O'Reilly and wife by deed recorded in book No. 180, page 379, &c., Ulster County Clerk's office—with the appurtenances.

Kingston, Saturday Morning, Feb. 28.

Tweed read the account of the demonstrative solemnities of Smith's funeral with tears in his eyes. Owing to a previous engagement he could not be on hand himself; yet his heart was with his old "pard." Said he, with an emotion credible to his large, breezy nature, "Like David and Jonathan, Smith and I were lovely in our lives and in death we shall not be divided." As to the latter clause of the quotation almost every one will agree with Tweed.

The demonstrations made upon legislative bodies by the women do not seem to meet with much success. When the earnest temperance ladies of Ohio petitioned their legislators to have an hour of prayer they replied they were too busy; and so the Senate hasn't time to bother with the petitions relating to temperance. But if the women's crusade continues the Senators will have a fine time of it, as the petitions have been coming in at the rate of fifty a day, and will soon be three deep on the floor of the Senate chamber.

Judge Darell of Louisiana means to look out for and provide against the traditional "rainy day." And at Mrs. Myra Gaines' expense. Norton, to whom Mrs. Gaines was referred for the conditions upon which the Judge would consent to sit and hear one of her land-suits, told the lady that the Judge would perform his official functions on consideration of the gift to him of some $20,000 and every alternate lot in the city of New Orleans for the possession of which she brought suit. When his Honor is impeached, as by a mere chance he may be, her testimony to that effect may be of service to the country.

The intellectual department of the Herald seems to be much akin to Mark Twain's undertaker's pet corpse, whose head was so large, mentally speaking, that a fever in one corner of it affected the opposite corner less than "a insurrection in Arizona affects the Atlantic states." After proving beyond all chance of successful dispute that Mr. Gladstone's work is forever done, and that Mr. Forster only is his competent successor in the leadership of the Liberals, the Herald fearlessly and sweetly adds: "At the same time we shall not be surprised if the old longing shall come back, and we find this brilliant and gifted Minister once again controlling England by his courage and his eloquence, and winning anew a popularity and a power which he used alone for the peace and glory of his country." Ah!

Butler declares he is a friend of newspapers as they should be, but not as they are. They are the willing, prostituted vehicles of so much that is pernicious and altogether bad in the present day that Ben. feels it his duty as a censor and guardian of public and domestic morals, to lift up his voice sorrowfully in protest. Not to allude to the fact that big B.'s should buzz in bodies, Butler should be with Bismarck. The sour old German Prince premier is also down on the newspapers. His little bill before the Reichstag provides for the police supervision of all journals published in the Empire, and the rigid exclusion or excision of all matter that don't happen to please his doughty Highness. Perhaps in the interest of sound morality and true blue political orthodoxy, Prince Ben would like to have it so here. And that would be too cruel—for the gratuitous and flattering notices of an untrammeled press have made him all he is. Besides, their constant publication of the worst things he can say about the newspapers should appeal to the mercy of this later Chronicle. There was an older Butler who "did not remember Joseph, but forgot him." What a wonder is inherited tendency.

Capt. Gillett.

The renomination of Capt. Gillett by the Republicans of Denning is very welcome news. They can return no better man than he for Supervisor. Gallant, sturdy, honest Capt. Gillett is a true leader for reform, and always ready for duty.

Too Big.

Congress had better keep out of the reformatory business, save in a purely private and personal way. The liquor traffic is bad enough, but just now the ladies are paying their devoirs to that with a degree of success that cannot be imitated; leave it with them. The proposition to appoint a commission upon one form of immorality involves the propriety of doing the same thing on any and all others. Gambling is as serious an evil as intemperance and female extravagance helps to promote both. Indigestion is the mother of indescribable unhappiness and various forms of mischief, and hot soda-water is a doubtful benefit to the insane imbiber. We cannot possibly have a commission on these as well as a million other distinct phases of vice and suffering. So it will be seen that Senators really must restrain themselves; else we shall yet organize the most stupendous executive elephant ever heard of—the Bureau of Detailed Reforms for a Stricken and Sinful Universe—which would be too big a thing altogether.

The Brodhead Case and the Duty of the People.

While it is unfortunate that the Referee in the Schoonmaker and Cooper case could not give another hearing until the second of April, still such substantial progress was made that the people of Ulster county, who are the principal parties interested, can form an intelligent opinion as to the conduct of the suit and the merits of the Brodhead case. The evidence presented makes it clear that it would be the grossest disregard of justice and even of common decency to do other than press the case to the end.

We have given the fullest possible report of the testimony from day to day. The public must bear in mind that this is not a trial of the Brodhead case, hence the counsel for the county were restricted in the evidence, their most important being yet in reserve for the trial of the cause proper. But the testimony a limited very effectually disposes of the principal points of the case.

As to the animus of the case: John C. Brodhead was shown to be a defaulter to the county of Ulster in the sum of $100,000, in round numbers, and The Freeman insisted that he should be prosecuted. The counsel appointed, Schoonmaker and Cooper, were ready to try everybody else but Brodhead. When the prosecution was urged by The Freeman it was asserted that it was a persecution of an unfortunate man pressed by Thomas Cornell and his son-in-law, S. D. Coykendall, who sought to get Brodhead in a tight spot in order to "squeeze" him into selling property below its value, and it was charged he had been compelled to sell his railroad bonds under price through fear of going to prison. And yet Mr. Coykendall, being brought upon the stand, swears that he offered to loan Brodhead $300,000 to meet his deficiency, thus giving him ample time, if he could produce reasonable securities. Is there another man in the whole county who would have carried such an amount for another? This evidence clearly shows Mr. Brodhead was under no necessity of selling his bonds if he had the securities he ought to have had in his hands as Treasurer. Besides disposing of the charge of persecution, this fact furnishes additional evidence that Brodhead had neither the cash nor the assets with which to make his county account good, and points unmistakably to what has been clear to many—that the claims of $25,000 for stolen bonds and $27,000 loaned on the railroad mortgage, were after-thoughts born of necessity.

Regarding the $25,000 package alleged to have been stolen, no reasonable man can fail to see that Mr. Foland's testimony, stinted, careful and tinctured as it plainly is, points irresistibly to the conclusion that that package was taken by Mr. Brodhead himself. Foland swears the package was put up at 10 o'clock at night, which implies some special haste. Mr. Brodhead goes to New York the next morning. Why put up a package so late at night unless for him to take with him? He goes to the city and returns and is taken sick; while sick he is delirious, and Mr. Foland swears he asks him about the bonds, and he assures him they are all right, "supposing they are in New York." Why did he suppose they were in New York? Mr. Foland's "supposing" can be explained in only one of two ways; first, he either supposed they were in New York because Brodhead was to have taken, and did take, them with him to New York; or, second, Foland had, upon Brodhead's talking about the package when delirious, examined the safe and not finding the bonds there concluded they were in New York. If Mr. Foland had had any doubt where those bonds were, the most natural, if not the very first, thing he would have done when they were spoken of, would have been to examine the safe. He does not swear that he did not look for them; if he did not, he was either certain where they were, or he acted in a most unnatural way, as any one else under the circumstances would have ransacked the safe. Mr. Everson's affidavit (formerly published), but whose substance he was not permitted to repeat, asserted that Foland told him he knew who took the bonds. And Mr. Tuthill swears he was under the impression Foland said there were no bonds in the safe, except the $39,300, when the Committee commenced their labors.

County Treasurer Hasbrouck's testimony clearly establishes the fact that the coupons on all the new bonds except on five $100 bonds and one $500 bond were paid. This establishes, by Brodhead's own reasoning, that the bonds were not stolen, and disposes of all the sophistry about the coupons.

As regards the $27,000 mortgage the point is clearly established that Brodhead was not authorized to loan upon it, while Mr. Hecker's testimony indicates (which in fact was also once asserted by Mr. Brodhead over his own signature) that Brodhead bought the mortgage, Mr. H. says for $5,000, and Mr. Hecker was unable on examining the railroad company's books to find any entries of any loan by Brodhead to the company. Mr. Tuthill's testimony is very emphatic and indisputable that the New Bond Committee authorized the loan only upon the note of the President of the R. & O. R. R. Co., with the mortgage assigned to the Committee, besides railroad bonds at fifty cents on the dollar as additional security; and Mr. Brodhead's claim to have loaned $27,000 on the mortgage is nothing less than an assertion that he violated the express and peremptory commands of the New Bond Committee. Mr. Tuthill's testimony on this point is corroborated by other members of the Committee.

We have thus briefly sketched the main points of the evidence produced at this sitting of the Referee. It points to the inevitable reopening of the case. Now let the committee see that it is prosecuted to the bitter end. The public expect it, and will not be satisfied until the whole of the huge mass of corruption and villainy that has polluted the air of Ulster county so long is fully exposed and the rascals condignly punished. Whoever they are, let them be brought before the public and condemned by the popular voice. This case cannot be abandoned by the county without disgrace to itself and the encouragement and continuance of knavery. As to the old bounty frauds, with which it was sought to clog the investigation of these latter-day frauds, we not only urge but demand a full and free investigation, and we earnestly hope every Supervisor elected on Tuesday next will be instructed by his constituents to insist upon the matter being probed to the very bottom. And as an especial effort was made in the cross-examination of Mr. Tuthill by Mr. Fowler to create the impression that something new was to be exposed as to the alleged frauds of March and November, 1866, we reprint, as our contribution towards the investigation, the schedule published by us in 1871 and 1872, and with which we challenge a comparison with anything that Schoonmaker and Cooper, John C. Brodhead, Fowler & Co. may produce. Herewith we reproduce from our files of those years the distribution of bonds or their proceeds in the spring and fall of 1866:

MARCH, 1866.

|---|---|
| George Chambers | $120 |
| F. S. McKinstry | 150 |
| D. L. Decker | 200 |
| John C. Brodhead | 2,000 |
| Masten & Brodhead | 300 |
| Thad. Hait | 150 |
| Jesse Lyons | 90 |
| Isaac W. Longyear | 90 |
| Calvin Hoornbeck | 1,2 0 |
| William Lounsbery | 100 |
| N. W. Watson | 150 |

NOVEMBER, 1866.

|---|---|
| William Parks | $ 80 |
| J. T. Decker | 100 |
| Calvin Hoornbeck | 800 |
| J. C. Brodhead | 2,000 |
| Thad. Hait | 1,0 0 |
| F. S. McKinstry | 1 000 |
| Joseph H. Tuthill | 1,000 |
| Isaac W. Longyear | 1,000 |
| Jesse Lyons | 1,000 |
| George Chambers | 150 |
| N. W. Watson | 1,000 |

It may be that some of the above are susceptible of explanations. If they are let us have them; but we thoroughly condemn random assertions and vague charges; and we demand of Messrs. John C. Brodhead, Charles A. Fowler, Kingston Journal & Co. that they come down with their facts and figures instead of indulging in vague inuendoes and cloudy aspersions. Let us know everybody who has cheated the county, the amount, the time, and the occasion.

We may add, for the information of the late distinguished counsel for the county, Mr. John C. Brodhead, and the Journal, that neither of them has yet referred to the fact that in the same year Calvin Hoornbeck, then Treasurer, and John C. Brodhead, his deputy, appropriated $10,000 each from the county treasury, over and above the distribution above published.

Choke Down those Speeches.

Sweet spirits in Washington, hear our prayer. Fewer speeches, let us have fewer speeches and more majority votes in the right direction—that is its mournful burden. Logan is getting ready. In the lonely recesses of his room, wrapped in profound contemplation and saturated with silence, broken only now and then by the cry of a famished hackman or the song of a belated Congressman, he is making his mighty preparations. Finance is to be his lofty theme; and inasmuch as the less one knows about a given subject the more majestically can soar the able-bodied eagles of his imagination, the Senator as to his choice is favored of the gods. The way to resume, said Mr. Greeley, is to resume. The way to talk about inflation is to inflate. The Graphic balloon was some time in getting filled, and Logan is greater than the Graphic balloon. In the end he will swear violently for a few moments and then rise toward the cerulean firmament. Some forty-eight hours afterwards he will come down, exhausted and gasping for air. Meanwhile the Senate will wait, the House will wait, the country will wait. If Senator Logan shall prove anything at all, he will prove that we should redeem our broken promises to pay by issuing a fresh batch of neatly printed lies. If he fails to make the people believe that such a course contains the cream of honesty, then the time will have been wasted, and the nation two days nearer bankruptcy and disgrace. We do not need to be reminded that it is a good deal easier to keep blowing up Congress than to submit a plan for meeting the financial situation, at once coherent and complete; we know that much. After all let the managers of the monetary gas-works understand that the people will not have more inflation. The plea that the South and West need more currency deceives nobody; we all know that every dollar of a new issue would find its way to Wall street by express, and the West and South would not see the color of that money until they raise something to buy it with. And even then, the appreciation of values would offset its usefulness. Gentlemen legislators, stop talking for buncombe and fix your eyes on hard-pan.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Platt, the champion document sender, voted for the franking bill, of course.

—An Evansville cow chewed tobacco and died, which should incline human beings to eschew the weed.

—Is Harry Hill serious or not in that offer to the ladies? It looks to us like a sharp advertising dodge for his famous saloon.

—The President says it was self-esteem which suggested the Centennial Exposition. Well, we were mistaken; we thought it was patriotism—and Cameron.

—The money appropriated for teachers' salaries in the District of Columbia has been used by the Board of Public Works, and the teachers, to the disgrace of the nation, are suffering for their pay.

—Sheridan Shook is a prominent candidate for President Smith's position. Hank's death has certainly shook up the politicians in a very lively way, and Sheridan might as well go up with the rest. Hank was really a pivotal man.

—The Tribune commends Senator Carpenter as a skillful presiding officer. It is probable that he and Husted, both considered a little disputable, will do more business than any presiding officers either the Senate or our own Assembly has had for years.

—We have recently read of nothing more inhuman than the attempt to burn the Rochester school houses. Had the attempt been successful hundreds of school children would have been burned to death. The man capable of such a deed must be a fiend or lunatic.

—The Cleveland Leader thinks this temperance movement must afford a great deal of satisfaction to the woman's rights advocates, and that they have accidentally stumbled upon the only means by which their waning cause could have been revived. This is unkind and ungallant, and we suspect a sly slur cast upon a movement originated with the purest motives.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

ALBANY, Feb. 27.

BILLS PASSED.

Consolidating the governments of the city and county of New York, and further regulating the same.

Amending the act entitled of the county treasurers and requiring an additional bond from county treasurers.

GENERAL ORDERS.

In Committee of the Whole, Mr. DAYTON in the chair, the following bills were considered:

In relation to the collection of taxes in the city and county of New York, and amending laws in relation to the equalization of taxes among the several counties of this state. Progressed.

Authorizing the Boards of Supervisors of the several counties of the state, except New York and Kings, to contract for the public printing required by law to be done in their respective counties. Third reading.

Mr. DICKINSON in the chair.

For the protection of factory children and other persons.

Mr. WOODIN moved to amend the second section of the bill so as to provide that no child under the age of fourteen shall be employed for more than ten hours a day or more than sixty hours a week. Carried.

Mr. JOHNSON moved to amend the second section so as to prevent the employment of children on any legal holiday.

Mr. Johnson's amendment was adopted.

Mr. LOWERY moved to strike out the whole of the third section. The section regulates the matter of the fire-escape, trap-doors, shafting, &c.

Mr. LOWERY'S motion was adopted.

On motion of WOOD the bill was then ordered to a third reading.

Mr. WOOD, amending act authorizing the formation of railroad corporations.

Adjourned until 7:30 P. M. this (Friday) evening.

EVENING SESSION.

BILLS REPORTED.

By Mr. WOOD, from the Finance Committee, relative to equalizing the assessment and collection of taxes. By Mr. BOOTH, from the Committee on Literature, favorably, to Howland College for the education of young women. Also favorably to the bill for the education and care of deaf mutes.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. WOOD introduced a bill relative to quarantine, defining the qualifications, duties and powers of the Health Officer for the harbor of the port of New York.

The Senate having gone through the order of business, Senator Johnson moved to take up again the order of Resolutions and moved that when the Senate adjourn this evening it adjourn to Monday evening, half-past seven o'clock. He stated that the action of certain members of the majority voting against adjourning over until Monday, while they really had their carpet-bags packed and were ready to leave by the next train, was all buncombe. The manner in which the entire order of business was passed through with this evening showed that the Senate is entirely up with its business, and nothing will be gained by holding a session on Saturday.

Mr. WOOD replied that if a session could be held on Saturday he thought the Finance Committee would be able to report the appropriation bill on Monday. He offered an amendment for a final adjournment April 16th, 1874.

The amendment was made concurrent and after various propositions were voted down it was finally adopted.

A resolution to adjourn over until Monday was offered and adopted by a viva voce vote.

Adjourned.

ASSEMBLY.

BILLS PASSED.

To enable husbands and wives to testify for each other in criminal cases.

Mr. HAZELTON moved to recommit with instructions to strike out the clause making the bill dependent upon a husband or wife charged with crime being offered as a witness in their own behalf.

The amendment was agreed to, the bill amended as directed and passed.

The bill as amended provides that whenever a husband or wife shall, for a criminal offence, be under indictment, or examination or trial, the wife, or the husband in the alternative, shall be a competent witness in his or her behalf. The bill takes effect immediately.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. DICKSON, to protect purchasers of sewing machines.

Mr. ALVORD, requiring trustees of school districts to give notice of taxation for school purposes.

Mr. BURRITT, in relation to Savings Banks.

Mr. MACKIN, for the relief of Wm. Baxter and David Dobbin.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. VEDDER, that the House adjourn at 2 o'clock until Monday evening at 7½ o'clock. Agreed to—46 to 42.

The SPEAKER presented the annual report of Wm. B. Taylor, late State Engineer.

Adjourned to Monday evening at half-past seven o'clock.

—An Oswego parent writes an indignant letter to the Oswego Times announcing that a lady teacher in the public school, to which his daughter was sent, wears a corset, and wanting to know whether the Board of Education can afford to encourage "such an influence" upon the tender minds of the young. The daughter, it appears, has fallen in love with the teacher's figure and she wants a corset.

TELEGRAPH.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN

FOREIGN.

SOUTH IN AMERICA.

Cholera in Buenos Ayres.

LISBON, Feb. 27.—Late advices from Buenos Ayres have been received here. Cholera continued to rage with unabated violence in the city, and many persons were dying.

THE TEMPERANCE CRUSADE.

Increasing Interest in Ithaca.

ITHACA, Feb. 27.—The interest in the temperance crusade inaugurated here by Dio Lewis this morning is growing. One of the largest meetings ever assembled in a public hall of this place is being held this evening. Addresses by leading citizens are being delivered. There is no excitement, but quiet enthusiasm and determination to try the efficacy of the new movement in suppressing the great evil of intemperance. A daily union prayer-meeting was begun this afternoon, conducted by the best ladies of the place, who are thoroughly enlisted in the great work.

THE WORK IN THE WEST.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The prayer temperance movement began at Ottumwa, Iowa, to-day.

At Fort Madison, Iowa, a few days ago the saloon keepers received postal cards warning them to cease operations or they will be visited and prayed with to-day. The cards were afterwards ascertained to have been sent by some person as a joke. A number of ladies hearing of it organized praying bands and to-day visited three saloons and held services in each. In one they were met by crowds of loafers, who danced while they sang and sang and drank while they prayed, but the women stood their ground and prayed until the confusion ceased.

At Atlantic, Iowa, the women have organized and will visit the saloons to-morrow.

COLUMBUS, O., 27.—Ladies' temperance prayer meetings, held daily, still draw large houses, the one to-day being the largest of the season. The executive committee of ladies has been increased to about two hundred, but no active campaign has been agreed on. Mass meetings, one for men and one for women, are to be held on Sunday.

A BEGINNING IN PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—This afternoon a prayer meeting was held in the Baptist chapel in Seventh street, in the extreme northern section of the city. At the opening about two hundred ladies were present. Mrs. Doctor French, a well-known lady, presided. Prior to the opening exercises reporters were requested to withdraw and the proceedings were conducted secretly. The number of ladies increased and by four o'clock nearly 1,000 were in and around the chapel. The ladies, after long discussion, decided to commence a crusade against the liquor dealers at once and for that purpose they delegated twenty of their numbers, who proceeded to three saloons in the vicinity, around which they sang and prayed. The proprietors had heard that something of the kind was in progress and when they saw the ladies approaching they closed their doors. The first saloon visited was that of Chris. Hogenlochens, Susquehanna avenue and Fifth street. They met the proprietor and the following conversation ensued:

"Can we hold a prayer meeting?"

"Certainly not. I have no room in which to hold a prayer-meeting."

"Can we pray in a bed-room?"

"No; it would disturb the boarders."

"Do you sell drink?"

"I do not to drunkards. I pay my license and I am protected by law."

They then sang and prayed around the establishment and left. The saloons of A. Kramer and John Oberholser in the vicinity were then visited. The doors were closed at the latter place, and they sang and prayed at a side door. A number of roughs gathered, who ridiculed the proceedings so much that one of the ladies wept. The proprietor called the police, but they refused to interfere. After leaving the saloons the delegation returned to the chapel, where the meeting was anxiously awaiting them. When Mrs. Dr. French, who led the delegation, entered the door she stretched out both hands and cried, "Victory is ours! We have won." After singing and praying, the meeting adjourned. Numbers of prominent saloons on Chestnut street to-day received written notices which stated that the ladies in a body would soon call on them. The attempt to-day was spasmodic, and the majority of people do not think the movement will succeed in this city.

BUTLER'S TRIUMPH.

Confirmation of Simmons.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—William A. Simmons was to-day confirmed as Collector of the Port of Boston. The vote stood 27 to 17, nothwithstanding both Boutwell and Sumner spoke against the nomination.

STRONG LANGUAGE FROM THE HUB.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—The Journal and Advertiser of to-morrow editorially express grave dissatisfaction at the nomination and confirmation of Simmons as Collector of the Port. The Journal says: "We have a long battle before us, and it is no use to issue sounding manifestatoes, publish plans of operations or forecast definite results. All we know is that the Republican party of Massachusetts will not stand this evil and disgrace sought to be, whether intentionally or not, inflicted upon us at Washington."

The Advertiser says: "The President undoubtedly made the nomination upon the misrepresentations of two members of the Massachusetts delegation, to whom Simmons can be serviceable, and one of whom had further need of his services, and should, when informed that the nomination was distasteful to the entire community, have rectified his error. His refusal to do this has forced upon this community an obnoxious officer against the judgment of both Senators from Massachusetts, against the judgment of eight of eleven members of the House from Massachusetts, against the almost unanimous voice of the citizens of Boston of both parties who do business at the Custom House, against the moral sense of the entire commonwealth. This is an invasion of our rights for which no precedent will be found in the political history of this country, an outrage which cannot be many times repeated without destroying not only the political party which tolerates it, but the harmony of the state as surely."

BROTHERHOOD OF ENGINEERS.

Their Secret Session Continued.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—The convention of Locomotive Engineers is still in session. Secrecy is still maintained and positive information of its proceedings cannot be obtained. It is rumored that a general strike has been decided upon and that the details are being arranged. It is also stated that there is considerable opposition to this course and that if the non-strikers do not carry their point they will split from the Brotherhood and form a separate organization.

THE KENTUCKY STRIKERS.

Appeal of a Mill Owner for Protection.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 27.—The proprietor of Swift's Rolling Mills at Newport, Ky., has to-night telegraphed Gov. Leslie of Kentucky for protection to enable him to resume work at his rolling mills; also to the Secretary of War for a detachment of soldiers from Newport barracks to guard the boats he is constructing for the government.

A GRAND OLD CHARACTER TO BE VINDICATED.

Old Zach Not Drunk.

DETROIT, Feb. 27.—Senator Chandler has brought suit against the Detroit Free Press for libel, claiming $100,000 damages for an alleged libel in a special dispatch from Washington, Feb. 20th, charging Chandler with intoxication and disgraceful conduct in the Senate Chamber.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For Saturday in the Middle and Eastern States stationary or rising barometer, northwest winds and clear weather.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.

Mr. BAYARD, the from Finance Committee, reported a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate what if any additional legislation is required to prevent defalcations by officers receiving and disposing of United States revenue stamps and public money, and whether persons having custody of such stamps and money should not in all cases be required to give bonds with securities for proper execution of their duty. Passed.

The bill to provide for appointment of a commission in regard to alcoholic liquor traffic, being unfinished business at the expiration of the morning hour yesterday, was taken up and the amendment of Morrill appropriating $10,000 for expenses of the commission, agreed to.

Pending discussion the morning hour expired, and the House bill in regard to the Centennial Exhibition was taken up.

Mr. SUMNER offered a substitute for the House bill providing that the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of American independence shall be national in its character; that the arrangements shall be left in the hands of the original commission, and shall be carried out to conform to the provisions of the act of Congress; and that no money shall be appropriated from the national treasury on account of the celebration. In advocating the adoption of the amendment, Mr. Sumner said that one of the first votes of the commission went to show that the celebration should be national in its character and not international, as they provided that it should be open from the anniversary of the battle of Lexington to the anniversary of the battle of Yorktown; but a change came over the guiding spirits, and they now wanted to have a world's fair. The two ideas were inconsistent, inharmonious twins bound together by an unnatural ligament like those two now lying on the surgeon's table in Philadelphia. England would be invited to participate, and taking her seat on the centennial bench would listen to the arraignment of George III. and his tyrannical qualifications. Italy would have representatives of her two sovereigns, Victor Emanuel and Pius IX. Germany would have a representative of her Emperor, who believed in right divine. Austria would be represented by her descendent of Joseph II., who declined an introduction to Benjamin Franklin, giving as a reason that his business was to be a royalist. Kings and queens, emperors, princes and potentates would be invited, and this republic would be expected to welcome them. He did not think they should be invited, as it would not be consistent with our own self-respect. Another thing, a world's fair here would be different from one in Europe. Exhibitors would not have the same number of people as are drawn by European exhibitions. We had but forty million people in this country, while the world's fairs of London, Paris and Vienna had all of Europe to patronize them. It would be premature to attempt to hold a world's fair here only three years after that at Vienna. He did not think the country able to incur the expense of this exhibition.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN, of New Jersey, said the country was abundantly able to incur the expense, and it was appropriates that the event should be commemorated in a manner that all mankind might participate.

Mr. SCOTT advocated the passage of the bill, saying if Congress appropriate three millions, half payable this year and the other half next year, the exhibition can be made a success.

Mr. CARPENTER said on Monday next after the pending bill should be disposed of he would ask the Senate to take up for reference his bill in regard to a new election in Louisiana, and would ask the indulgence of the Senate to enable him to submit some remarks thereon.

The Senate then adjourned to Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. SHANKS of Indiana entered a motion to reconsider the vote of yesterday rejecting the bill to revise the franking privilege, to be called up hereafter.

The House then at 4:30 adjourned till to-morrow.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—There are 1,450 granges in Indiana, an average of sixteen to each county.

—The temperance movement has reached Indianapolis.

—Mrs. Sarah E. Beard of Fayettville, N. Y., has donated $5,000 to Hamilton College as a fund for the aid of needy students.

—An anonymous New Yorker sends $500 conscience money to the Treasury, which, he says, is due on account of a custom suit begun in the United States District Court by the United States against the York Street Flax Spinning Company to recover $100,000 in gold for alleged undervaluation of invoices of linen goods. The company is English and the suit is against its agents here.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF ULSTER. Frederick Kronnick against Albert Burhans, and Caroline Burhans, his wife, Andrew Dodge, James Murphy and Charles Dreyfus.

In pursuance and by virtue of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made in the above entitled action on the 26th day of February, 1874, the subscriber, referee for that purpose duly appointed, will sell at public auction at the Court House in the city of Kingston, in the county of Ulster on the twenty-eighth day of March, 1874, at ten o'clock in the forenoon the real estate and mortgaged premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows, to-wit:

All that tract or parcel of land situate in the city of Kingston, county of Ulster, being known and designated as lot number two hundred and sixty-four (264) on map of the lands of John O'Reilly made by D. T. Van Buren, 1870, bounded as follows: In front on O'Reilly street, in rear by lot number two hundred and fifty-eight on said map, southwesterly by lot number two hundred and sixty-five on said map, north easterly by lot number two hundred and sixty-three and part of lot number two hundred and sixty, said lot being fifty feet front and rear and one hundred feet deep, being same lot conveyed to said Albert Burhans by John R. Freer and wife and recorded in book No. 172 of deeds, pages 571 &c., together with all the machines and machinery in the buildings on said premises. Also all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Kingston aforesaid and designated on a map of the lands of John O'Reilly made by D. T. VanBuren, 1870, as lot number 257 and being forty feet in front and forty feet in rear and one hundred feet deep; it being the whole of said lot No. 257, excepting a strip ten feet in width, running from front to rear of said lot and lying between the piece of land hereby sold and lot number 258. Said lot as hereby conveyed is bounded as follows: Northerly by Hoffman street, southerly by lot No. 265, westerly by lot No. 256 and easterly by said strip of land ten feet wide, reserved as afore-said. Being the same lot conveyed to said Albert Burhans by John O'Reilly and wife by deed recorded in book No. 180, page 379, &c., Ulster County Clerk's office—with the appurtenances.

CITY NOTES.

—The sidewalk on the east side of Garden street on Friday forenoon, was a good place for ground and lofty tumbling.

—The Catskill Recorder alludes to "Under-Sheriff Saxton of Ulster." Better read over your election returns and find out the Sheriff's name.

—The ice on the river at this point has again become stationary, but the Lark experiences no difficulty in making its regular trips.

—A chap uptown says the Seminary twins are dead, and a utopotsy has been made by the doctor. He meant the Siamese twins, we suppose.

—There is a Notary Public in the city of whom it is said he not only swears people for fifty cents a rip, but solemnizes the marriage ceremony and grants divorces.

—The latest novelty is a pocket, with a clasp to it, in a lady's gauntlet. We saw one worked in a street car, and are constrained to remark it is even more handy than a pocket in a shirt.

—The sporting men have had a brief season in which to speed their trotters and the avenues presented a fine appearance Thursday. The fancy sleighs must now be laid up for a season, and the wagons too, no doubt, so far as pleasure riding is concerned.

—Edmonds, the Garden street confectioner, has invented another confection—candied orange. Doubtless he could make a more delicious one should he put his whole mind to it, but he never did yet. It is rather an improvement on "chronological confections."

—The jolliest meeting the Common Council has held in many months was last evening.—Jokes and laughter seemed to bubble up from them just as though no troubled thought of the election near at hand vexed any of their gentle spirits.

—Of course if you go to the Thomas concert you want an opera glass and when you are buying your ticket at Andrew Dunn's it is very handy to buy or lease a magnifier at the same time. See?

—On Monday the Winter Brothers will be prepared to sell at their stores, tickets for all stations on the Wallkill Valley Railway and Erie Railroad, and to any point in the West as far as San Francisco. Baggage will be checked to whatever place the traveler wishes to go.

An Old Citizen of Olive Gone.

Mr. Conrad Brodhead, one of the oldest residents of the town of Olive, died on Thursday at the ripe old age of 84 years. Mr. B. was born in the town of Marbletown, and when about twenty-five years of age removed to the town of Olive, where he resided up to the time of his death. During his life he was a somewhat noted personage, having been a member of Assembly and a Justice of the Peace a number of years. He was also a land surveyor and better acquainted with the large tracts of wild land in Ulster county than any living man. Whenever there was a big land suit at the Ulster County Circuit to determine title to real estate, Conrad Brodhead was always called upon as a witness. Mr. B. for the greater part of his life has been a member of the Reformed Church. When quite young he married Miss Goetches, a daughter of Rev. Mr. Goetches, a Reformed minister who held forth in the Marbletown church; this lady died some forty years ago, since which time Mr. B. resided at the old homestead at Olive Bridge.—Mr. B. had seen during his life many changes in this country, one of the most startling perhaps being the R. & O. Railroad, that ran a few feet from his door. The funeral will take place from his late residence on Monday, March 2nd, at 10:30 A. M. All are invited to attend.

The Shandaken Nomination.

We have not proposed to speak of the Supervisor nominations in detail, but we cannot refrain from specially mentioning the Republican nominee for Supervisor in the town of Shandaken, Mr. M. J. C. Woodworth. Mr. Woodworth was one of the most gallant soldiers in the war, and is energetic, talented and popular. The tax-payers of Shandaken can send no better representative to look after their interests. Let the Shandaken people see that their town is not handed over to the control of the Brodhead gang, and send a square, upright man to represent them in the Board. Such a man is Madison J. C. Woodworth.

Band of Hope.

A very happy time was had last night by the Band of Hope of the Rondout Baptist Church. Duetts, solos, dialogues, speeches and addresses by the children of the Band were given in quick succession, and a quartette consisting of Mr. Frank Tripp, Mr. C. W. McKown, Miss Gracie Hardenbergh and Miss Lizzie Moyle, with Miss Aldrich as organist, added to the pleasure. Mr. Cooper was as young as any of the Band, and his face beamed with enthusiasm. The children were very hearty in their enjoyment. The audience, which was a large one, seemed highly entertained; applause was objected to by the Pastor, but he could not entirely control the delighted audience.

Accident.

George Greening, a driller in the employment of Noone & Madden, in Higginsville, while turning the crank of the derrick in the quarry was severely injured by a stone from a blast falling on him. The stone struck his wrist and arm, laming him badly, though no bones were broken.

Steamer Sold.

The Bigelow Blue Stone Company have sold their steamer "Blue Stone Company" to Captain Flannery of this city, a brother of Keran Flannery. Price paid was, we learn, $5,500. It is the intention of Captain Flannery to use his steamer in towing in and out the creek.

Real Estate Operations.

John H. Schreiber, the Garden street merchant, will erect about the first of April a fine house on Stuyvesant street nearly opposite Mrs. Dillon's. Capt. Flynn, we understand, also contemplates erecting a building in the same locality.

Poor Vote.

Congressman Dewitt voted to restore the franking of public documents.

THE COUNSEL FEES CASE.

Continued.

The defence introduced in evidence the testimony taken upon the Brodhead reference before Scott, with certain corrections.

Ezekiel E. Elting, testified—I was a Supervisor at one time, and on the Committee on County Accounts; during that time Cooper spoke to me about the mandamus cases of Foland, Roosa and Van Nostrand, and said there was no necessity of making so much expense; that one suit might be tried, and that would determine the other cases.

Cross-Examined—The talk was at No. 6, Eagle Hotel; Cooper made the statement voluntarily; I think we were alone; he said there was no use in trying but one of the cases, as a decision in one of the cases would decide all of them.

John D. Mowris testified—Am Supervisor of the town of Marbletown; am acquainted with the wood lot embraced in the $27,000 mortgage; am acquainted with value of real estate in the vicinity of that wood lot; should judge the wood lot was worth not to exceed $85, an acre; about six years ago a quarry was opened upon it; worked by different parties at intervals; other quarries in its vicinity have been worked continually; I don't consider the wood land is a quarry lot.

Cross-Examined—To draw the stone to the railroad is about four miles, and from the railroad to tide-water is fifteen miles; before the railroad was built stone were drawn fifteen miles to tide-water; since the improved facilities for getting stone to market I don't know about the title being in the railroad company or in Coykendall.

Morgan Everson testified—Was one of the committee of the Board; when at the Treasurer's office Mr. Foland's attention was called to the fact as to whether there were any bonds in the safe, he replied—(The Referee excluded what Foland replied.) Foland opened the safe.

Cross-Examined—I was Chairman of the Committee of Investigation; the committee made a report which I signed as Chairman, but of my own knowledge I can't say that report was correct and true.

Re-Direct Examination—The $39,300 in bonds was exhibited to myself and Schoonmaker at Brodhead's house, and we there counted them; I never saw them in the Treasurer's office; those were the $39,300 in bonds which passed to Brodhead's successor.

(It is admitted that on all the judgments read in evidence executions have been issued to the Ulster County Sheriff, and returned unsatisfied.)

F. S. McKinstry, recalled, to Mr. Fowler—I have no doubt but that the report is correct which the committee made in February, 1865. It is my recollection and belief that the report of the committee made was correct and true.

Augustus Schoonmaker, Jr., testified for claimants—Am a practising lawyer; admitted in September, 1853; was one of the attorneys in the Brodhead case; I answered for Abram A. Deyo; was not present during the whole trial; know what services were performed by Mr. Schoonmaker on that trial so far as I was present; in the Brodhead case, considering the character of the case and the questions involved and the other things connected with it, I think a reasonable compensation for the prosecuting attorneys would be about $2,500 for both; I heard part of Schoonmaker's argument before the Referee, and I thought he showed a very thorough knowledge of the case, and very careful preparation; he had a very elaborate brief; his argument was very earnest and forcible, I thought; I know what services S. & C. rendered in the Roosa mandamus case, and I think the services in that case independent of term fees were worth about $150; I know of no respectable lawyer hiring out by the hour or day, and so far as I know lawyers are not in the habit of estimating their services by the number of hours or days employed; think $250 would be a very moderate retaining fee in an ordinary case involving difficult questions of law where there was from $10,000 to $20,000 at issue; regard a retaining fee as part payment in a case and to be applied in part payment in the end; in such a case for the labor of preparation, excluding the labor of trial, I should say from $500 to $1,000 would be a reasonable counsel fee, depending entirely upon the character of the case and somewhat upon the parties; a lawyer's capital is his experience and knowledge, and the value of his services consists in the extent of his experience and legal knowledge; Mr. Schoonmaker is the most experienced lawyer we have at our bar, and I regard him as one of the most faithful; I can't estimate the value of his services in a matter occupying his whole time for a year; the ordinary charge here for a lawyer for his exclusive services for a day is from $20 to $25; if the services are extraordinary and difficult and occupying a number of days the charges vary; it depends entirely upon the character of the services and the amount and questions involved.

Cross-Examined—When I fix the amount of compensation I take into consideration the time involved to a considerable extent; time is one of the elements; I don't know the extent of services performed by S. and C. in the Brodhead case, and it may be they ought to have $1,000 more than the $2,500 stated.

Re-Direct Examination—When I said $2,500 I put it in round numbers and thought nothing about taxable costs; in my opinion the money value of a lawyer's services is whatever he can command for those services.

Cyrentus F. Brill testified that Cooper gave him (Brill) a deed which he said was a deed from Brodhead to Brill in trust of his house and lot, worth from $12,000 to $14,000; I don't remember that I ever read the deed and I don't know what the condition was, but Cooper told me it was delivered on some condition.

A Disclosure.

The Catskill Recorder publishes the following in connection with the report of the masked burglars' trial:

Perhaps one important fact may be stated here. It is rumored that the detectives present have papers and plans which they procured from the convicted prisoners at White Plains, showing that on or about the time of the Post robbery the Saugerties Bank was to have been entered by the masked burglars and the safe robbed. It is known that they rendezvoused in the vicinity with all the tools and implements necessary for the operation, but upon the sudden appearance of a detective in Saugerties they decamped and brought up at Mr. Post's residence. The detectives here have also information which will in all probability lead to the return of the two Greene county bonds stolen from Mr. Post. They intimate that the burglars convicted at White Plains have within a few days given information of a most valuable character, which information they do not desire to bring out here unless hard pressed, and even then they will give it with great reluctance. It is not improbable that before they leave this vicinty they will make an arrest or two hereabouts which will startle the denizens of the village.

Steamboat Item.

The screw steamer Miller, owned by the Poughkeepsie Transportation Company, arrived at Poughkeepsie from New York about 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, having towed a freight barge as far as Newburgh. The Miller experienced but very little difficulty on account of the ice, and it is expected she and her mate, the John L. Hasbrouck, will continue to run during the season, as will also the Newburgh barges, which are towed by the Miller and Hasbrouck. It is very rare that the season of navigation on the Hudson commences so early in the year.

A Suffering Patriot.

The Eddyville folks held a meeting the other night—they called it a citizens' meeting—to nominate delegates for the town caucus. A large number of able-bodied voters were present, but it soon became apparent that these men were pretty nearly all office-seekers, desiring the lucrative and highly-dignified office of constable. A chairman was appointed, who took a seat on a barrel of soda crackers, and by rapping energetically with an axe-handle on the floor several minutes and punching various members in their backs, finally managed to bring the meeting to order. He then arose, and after giving a hitch at his trousers, during which the barrel tipped and came near dumping him overboard, said: "Feller citi-citizens— (Great applause.) We are assembled together on this great occasion (Cries of "Hear him!" "Go it, Old Duffer," etc.) —and should know the whys and wherefores of this grave and potent assemblage; therefore, let some honest, upright office-holder arise and state the call of the corkus." (Sensation.) Here there was a great cry for speeches, during which each man shouted his own name with great energy. During the tumult a corpulent constable managed to mount a molasses hogshead, and after securing a good footing on his slippery platform, with an apologetic wave of the arm and a voice that sounded like the wind escaping through a leak in an organ, said: "Gentlemen, I stand before you—(Here there was great excitement in the crowd below, they having just discovered the fat constable's presence. Loud cries were heard all over the room, "Tip him off," "Go it, old sport," "Bully boy," "By mine dashen," etc.) I stand before you, (a squeaky voice, "hear him"), as an American citizen of this nineteenth century. (Here the speaker's feet slipped on some of the syrup that had oozed out of the hogshead, and he made several agile movements that would have astonished a first-class gymnast. The crowd supposing he was merely going through the ordinary routine of gesticulation for a stump speaker, applauded vociferously.) The speaker continued, breathing very hard—"I have served the town more than two years—two years, think of that! (A voice—"Correct, by Moses.") From my arduous services I made $2,000, 'nuff to buy an ice house, and a comfortable residence. (Cries, "That's so." Cheers.) If the electors return me another year I will build a house for my brother. But if I am defeated"—(voices, No, No! Never!") Speaker in a very loud tone—"If I am defeated, I say—my friends—take grappling irons and rake under the fan-tail of yonder steamer Blue Stone, for there will be found all that remains of poor me, who died for his country." Here the speaker was overcome with emotion, and while vainly trying to stretch his coat-tail so as to wipe his eyes, was carried out into the open air. The audience were so affected by the last pathetic remark, and became so extremely dry, a motion to adjourn "sinum dinum" was passed without a dissenting voice.

Town Nominations.

In Lloyd the Republicans have nominated Levitt Lane for Supervisor.

In Marlborough the Republicans have nominated Ethan Parrott for Supervisor. Dr. W. H. Gedney, nominated on the Liberal ticket, has been endorsed by the Democratic caucus.

In Shandaken the Republicans have nominated M. J. C. Woodworth for Supervisor and the Democrats J. H. Riseley.

In Olive the Democrats have nominated Louis Barton for Supervisor.

In Esopus the Republicans have nominated Amaziah Niece for Supervisor.

In Woodstock the Republicans have nominated W. H. Reynolds, and the Democrats Mark C. Risely for Supervisor.

In Olive the Republicans have nominated C. L. Houck for Supervisor.

In Marbletown the Democrats have nominated John H. Palen for Supervisor.

In Wawarsing the Republicans have nominated Dr. B. R. Bevier.

Personal.

Mr. Ellis E. S. Spencer, on Monday next will accept a position as salesman in Dimmick, Burhans & Webster's dry-goods establishment, corner John and Wall streets. Mr. Spencer has been out of the business for three years, but is so thoroughly informed in its details that he will make a very efficient addition to the concern, and from his wide connection will add largely to the business.

VICINITY.

—The tax-payers of the town of Greenport want to know who burned the town vouchers.

—The madame of a house of ill fame who died in Albany last week left a fortune of $40,000.

—The Paterson Guardian states that at present the Midland road is in a condition which makes traveling thereon dangerous.

—The proprietor of the Mansion House, Poughkeepsie, will hereafter run his house on temperance principles, so that he may read his title clear to mansions in the skies.

—An Albany clergyman, as an evidence of hard times, states that seven marriages which were to take place previous to the setting in of Lent have been postponed, and all owing to the scarcity of money.

—G. D. McCreedy of Cohoes has leased the brick storehouses of the Hudson Steamboat Company for five years. He will use them for a knitting factory, which will employ a large number of hands.

—A clergyman in the northern part of Dutchess county was engaged last Saturday in posting up notices of a donation for his own benefit. He said when he did a thing himself he was sure it was well done.

—Mr. S. B. Truesdell of Cold Spring is circulating a petition, which he intends to present to the Legislature, to extend the time prohibiting the shooting of robins to October 1st, as many of the young ones are not able to take care of themselves by the first of August.

—Between the 10th of March and 15th of April about three hundred prisoners confined in the Albany penitentiary will be discharged, owing to the expiration of their terms of service. Many of them will undoubtedly get back there again.

—The Rensselaer County Bank has closed its doors, and the banking house will be occupied by the Horse Railroad Company as a ticket office. This bank, since its organization in 1852, has paid only three dividends, and the stock is now quoted at ten cents.—The history of the Rensselaer County Bank forcibly reminds Lansingburghers of the very defunct Rensselaer County Insurance Company.

—According to our friend John Slingerland, West Albany has become the greatest hay market in this country. More hay is stored at West Albany to-day than you will find in the whole city of New York. The quantity is not less than 150,000 tons, taking acres of barn room to properly house it. The hay at West Albany at the present moment is worth $300,000. It is all used up on the spot. The buyers pay cash on delivery. Most hay dealers ask from three to six months' credit. People who want to see the largest pile of hay in the world should visit West Albany.—Albany Post.

Washington Irving Reading Club.

The members of this Club are requested to meet at the club rooms off Wall street in Parsell's building, on Saturday evening, Feb. 28th, at 7:30 o'clock.

By order of the Committee.

Our shop will be closed hereafter on Sundays. MERRITT BROTHERS, Butchers.

A splendid lot of SMOKED HAMS and SHOULDERS for sale by R. DEYO.

OUR FREE PARLIAMENT.

Town of Kingston Matters.

EDITOR OF RONDOUT FREEMAN:—Will you please give a citizen of the town of Kingston a small space in your columns to compare the bills audited by the Town Board for the support of the poor, with the bills audited by all the other towns in the county? I find from the authorized statement published in some of the county papers that Esopus for the year preceding November last is $57.00, Denning $48.00, Lloyd $140.00, Hurley $57.00, Marbletown $73.68, Rosendale $166.00, Marlborough $56.00, New Paltz $20.00, Olive $134.00, Plattekill, $99.00, Rochester $180.00, Saugerties $558.35, Shandaken $34.25, Shawangunk $67.00, Wawarsing $373.00, Woodstock $46.00, Hardenbergh $3.50, amounting to $2,184.63. Now, the town of Kingston: David Carle for late Overseer $2,300.00 and Michael Lamb $1,841.50, Martin Hendricks $312.47, amounting to $4,453.97, being $2,269.34 more than the other seventeen towns combined. Now Martin Hendricks' bill for one part of the town is $312.47, and the citizens of Eddyville say their portion of the town has not cost the Overseers one hundred dollars in ten years.

Does not this look like corruption somewhere, and can your correspondent calling himself Citizen, while vouching for the honesty of some of these officials he proposes to elevate to perhaps a less lucrative, but more important office, tell whether they will look to the interest of the town, or seek to fill their own pockets at at the expense of the tax-payers? EDDYVILLE.

WITHDRAWAL OF A CANDIDATE.

Declination of Mr. Hirsch.

RONDOUT, Feb. 27, 1874.

EDITOR FREEMAN—I respectfully withdraw my name as candidate for Alderman in the Seventh Ward. The reason I will state. First—I promised Mr. Tubby I would withdraw if he got the nomination. Second—I am afraid the city government can't run without Alderman Tubby, and I don't like to have the city suffer on my account. Third—I see, by looking at my naturalization papers, that I had been only 24 years in this city the 12th of July, 1874, and I am not entitled to any office because I am no citizen. The Jews of this city must be here 100 years before they can be citizens. Fourth—My friend Canfield told me I should withdraw because I am not popular and have no friends, and I can't draw over five votes. Why is he afraid, if I only get five votes? "Now, my friend Canfield, how is it about you next year, will you run?" "To be sure I will, it is a good office." "Then what will the citizens of the Sixth Ward say? The sun will never shine for you in the Sixth Ward for Alderman." "Then I will say, good bye, Liza Jane, good bye forever." My friend Tubby is a very nice man, honest and faithful in his office, and I am sure he will never make anything out of the city. Still he is sick, and I will cure him by withdrawing.

Yours truly, ISAAC HIRSCH.

The Hampton Singers.

CITY NOTES.

—The sidewalk on the east side of Garden street on Friday forenoon, was a good place for ground and lofty tumbling.

—The Catskill Recorder alludes to "Under-Sheriff Saxton of Ulster." Better read over your election returns and find out the Sheriff's name.

—The ice on the river at this point has again become stationary, but the Lark experiences no difficulty in making its regular trips.

—A chap uptown says the Seminary twins are dead, and a utopotsy has been made by the doctor. He meant the Siamese twins, we suppose.

—There is a Notary Public in the city of whom it is said he not only swears people for fifty cents a rip, but solemnizes the marriage ceremony and grants divorces.

—The latest novelty is a pocket, with a clasp to it, in a lady's gauntlet. We saw one worked in a street car, and are constrained to remark it is even more handy than a pocket in a shirt.

—The sporting men have had a brief season in which to speed their trotters and the avenues presented a fine appearance Thursday. The fancy sleighs must now be laid up for a season, and the wagons too, no doubt, so far as pleasure riding is concerned.

—Edmonds, the Garden street confectioner, has invented another confection—candied orange. Doubtless he could make a more delicious one should he put his whole mind to it, but he never did yet. It is rather an improvement on "chronological confections."

—The jolliest meeting the Common Council has held in many months was last evening.—Jokes and laughter seemed to bubble up from them just as though no troubled thought of the election near at hand vexed any of their gentle spirits.

—Of course if you go to the Thomas concert you want an opera glass and when you are buying your ticket at Andrew Dunn's it is very handy to buy or lease a magnifier at the same time. See?

—On Monday the Winter Brothers will be prepared to sell at their stores, tickets for all stations on the Wallkill Valley Railway and Erie Railroad, and to any point in the West as far as San Francisco. Baggage will be checked to whatever place the traveler wishes to go.

An Old Citizen of Olive Gone.

Mr. Conrad Brodhead, one of the oldest residents of the town of Olive, died on Thursday at the ripe old age of 84 years. Mr. B. was born in the town of Marbletown, and when about twenty-five years of age removed to the town of Olive, where he resided up to the time of his death. During his life he was a somewhat noted personage, having been a member of Assembly and a Justice of the Peace a number of years. He was also a land surveyor and better acquainted with the large tracts of wild land in Ulster county than any living man. Whenever there was a big land suit at the Ulster County Circuit to determine title to real estate, Conrad Brodhead was always called upon as a witness. Mr. B. for the greater part of his life has been a member of the Reformed Church. When quite young he married Miss Goetches, a daughter of Rev. Mr. Goetches, a Reformed minister who held forth in the Marbletown church; this lady died some forty years ago, since which time Mr. B. resided at the old homestead at Olive Bridge.—Mr. B. had seen during his life many changes in this country, one of the most startling perhaps being the R. & O. Railroad, that ran a few feet from his door. The funeral will take place from his late residence on Monday, March 2nd, at 10:30 A. M. All are invited to attend.

The Shandaken Nomination.

We have not proposed to speak of the Supervisor nominations in detail, but we cannot refrain from specially mentioning the Republican nominee for Supervisor in the town of Shandaken, Mr. M. J. C. Woodworth. Mr. Woodworth was one of the most gallant soldiers in the war, and is energetic, talented and popular. The tax-payers of Shandaken can send no better representative to look after their interests. Let the Shandaken people see that their town is not handed over to the control of the Brodhead gang, and send a square, upright man to represent them in the Board. Such a man is Madison J. C. Woodworth.

Band of Hope.

A very happy time was had last night by the Band of Hope of the Rondout Baptist Church. Duetts, solos, dialogues, speeches and addresses by the children of the Band were given in quick succession, and a quartette consisting of Mr. Frank Tripp, Mr. C. W. McKown, Miss Gracie Hardenbergh and Miss Lizzie Moyle, with Miss Aldrich as organist, added to the pleasure. Mr. Cooper was as young as any of the Band, and his face beamed with enthusiasm. The children were very hearty in their enjoyment. The audience, which was a large one, seemed highly entertained; applause was objected to by the Pastor, but he could not entirely control the delighted audience.

Accident.

George Greening, a driller in the employment of Noone & Madden, in Higginsville, while turning the crank of the derrick in the quarry was severely injured by a stone from a blast falling on him. The stone struck his wrist and arm, laming him badly, though no bones were broken.

Steamer Sold.

The Bigelow Blue Stone Company have sold their steamer "Blue Stone Company" to Captain Flannery of this city, a brother of Keran Flannery. Price paid was, we learn, $5,500. It is the intention of Captain Flannery to use his steamer in towing in and out the creek.

Real Estate Operations.

John H. Schreiber, the Garden street merchant, will erect about the first of April a fine house on Stuyvesant street nearly opposite Mrs. Dillon's. Capt. Flynn, we understand, also contemplates erecting a building in the same locality.

Poor Vote.

Congressman Dewitt voted to restore the franking of public documents.

THE COUNSEL FEES CASE.

Continued.

The defence introduced in evidence the testimony taken upon the Brodhead reference before Scott, with certain corrections.

Ezekiel E. Elting, testified—I was a Supervisor at one time, and on the Committee on County Accounts; during that time Cooper spoke to me about the mandamus cases of Foland, Roosa and Van Nostrand, and said there was no necessity of making so much expense; that one suit might be tried, and that would determine the other cases.

Cross-Examined—The talk was at No. 6, Eagle Hotel; Cooper made the statement voluntarily; I think we were alone; he said there was no use in trying but one of the cases, as a decision in one of the cases would decide all of them.

John D. Mowris testified—Am Supervisor of the town of Marbletown; am acquainted with the wood lot embraced in the $27,000 mortgage; am acquainted with value of real estate in the vicinity of that wood lot; should judge the wood lot was worth not to exceed $85 an acre; about six years ago a quarry was opened upon it; worked by different parties at intervals; other quarries in its vicinity have been worked continually; I don't consider the wood land is a quarry lot.

Cross-Examined—To draw the stone to the railroad is about four miles, and from the railroad to tide-water is fifteen miles; before the railroad was built stone were drawn fifteen miles to tide-water; since the improved facilities for getting stone to market I don't know about the title being in the railroad company or in Coykendall.

Morgan Everson testified—Was one of the committee of the Board; when at the Treasurer's office Mr. Foland's attention was called to the fact as to whether there were any bonds in the safe, he replied—(The Referee excluded what Foland replied.) Foland opened the safe.

Cross-Examined—I was Chairman of the Committee of Investigation; the committee made a report which I signed as Chairman, but of my own knowledge I can't say that report was correct and true.

Re-Direct Examination—The $39,300 in bonds was exhibited to myself and Schoonmaker at Brodhead's house, and we there counted them; I never saw them in the Treasurer's office; those were the $39,300 in bonds which passed to Brodhead's successor.

(It is admitted that on all the judgments read in evidence executions have been issued to the Ulster County Sheriff, and returned unsatisfied.)

F. S. McKinstry, recalled, to Mr. Fowler—I have no doubt but that the report is correct which the committee made in February, 1865. It is my recollection and belief that the report of the committee made was correct and true.

Augustus Schoonmaker, Jr., testified for claimants—Am a practising lawyer; admitted in September, 1853; was one of the attorneys in the Brodhead case; I answered for Abram A. Deyo; was not present during the whole trial; know what services were performed by Mr. Schoonmaker on that trial so far as I was present; in the Brodhead case, considering the character of the case and the questions involved and the other things connected with it, I think a reasonable compensation for the prosecuting attorneys would be about $2,500 for both; I heard part of Schoonmaker's argument before the Referee, and I thought he showed a very thorough knowledge of the case, and very careful preparation; he had a very elaborate brief; his argument was very earnest and forcible, I thought; I know what services S. & C. rendered in the Roosa mandamus case, and I think the services in that case independent of term fees were worth about $150; I know of no respectable lawyer hiring out by the hour or day, and so far as I know lawyers are not in the habit of estimating their services by the number of hours or days employed; think $250 would be a very moderate retaining fee in an ordinary case involving difficult questions of law where there was from $10,000 to $20,000 at issue; regard a retaining fee as part payment in a case and to be applied in part payment in the end; in such a case for the labor of preparation, excluding the labor of trial, I should say from $500 to $1,000 would be a reasonable counsel fee, depending entirely upon the character of the case and somewhat upon the parties; a lawyer's capital is his experience and knowledge, and the value of his services consists in the extent of his experience and legal knowledge; Mr. Schoonmaker is the most experienced lawyer we have at our bar, and I regard him as one of the most faithful; I can't estimate the value of his services in a matter occupying his whole time for a year; the ordinary charge here for a lawyer for his exclusive services for a day is from $20 to $25; if the services are extraordinary and difficult and occupying a number of days the charges vary; it depends entirely upon the character of the services and the amount and questions involved.

Cross-Examined—When I fix the amount of compensation I take into consideration the time involved to a considerable extent; time is one of the elements; I don't know the extent of services performed by S. and C. in the Brodhead case, and it may be they ought to have $1,000 more than the $2,500 stated.

Re-Direct Examination—When I said $2,500 I put it in round numbers and thought nothing about taxable costs; in my opinion the money value of a lawyer's services is whatever he can command for those services.

Cyrenius F. Brill testified that Cooper gave him (Brill) a deed which he said was a deed from Brodhead to Brill in trust of his house and lot, worth from $12,000 to $14,000; I don't remember that I ever read the deed and I don't know what the condition was, but Cooper told me it was delivered on some condition.

Adjourned to April 2d, at 2 P. M.

A Disclosure.

The Catskill Recorder publishes the following in connection with the report of the masked burglars' trial:

Perhaps one important fact may be stated here. It is rumored that the detectives present have papers and plans which they procured from the convicted prisoners at White Plains, showing that on or about the time of the Post robbery the Saugerties Bank was to have been entered by the masked burglars and the safe robbed. It is known that they rendezvoused in the vicinity with all the tools and implements necessary for the operation, but upon the sudden appearance of a detective in Saugerties they decamped and brought up at Mr. Post's residence. The detectives here have also information which will in all probability lead to the return of the two Greene county bonds stolen from Mr. Post. They intimate that the burglars convicted at White Plains have within a few days given information of a most valuable character, which information they do not desire to bring out here unless hard pressed, and even then they will give it with great reluctance. It is not improbable that before they leave this vicinty they will make an arrest or two hereabouts which will startle the denizens of the village.

Steamboat Item.

The screw steamer Miller, owned by the Poughkeepsie Transportation Company, arrived at Poughkeepsie from New York about 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, having towed a freight barge as far as Newburgh. The Miller experienced but very little difficulty on account of the ice, and it is expected she and her mate, the John L. Hasbrouck, will continue to run during the season, as will also the Newburgh barges, which are towed by the Miller and Hasbrouck. It is very rare that the season of navigation on the Hudson commences so early in the year.

A Suffering Patriot.

The Eddyville folks held a meeting the other night—they called it a citizens' meeting—to nominate delegates for the town caucus. A large number of able-bodied voters were present, but it soon became apparent that these men were pretty nearly all office-seekers, desiring the lucrative and highly-dignified office of constable. A chairman was appointed, who took a seat on a barrel of soda crackers, and by rapping energetically with an axe-handle on the floor several minutes and punching various members in their backs, finally managed to bring the meeting to order. He then arose, and after giving a hitch at his trousers, during which the barrel tipped and came near dumping him overboard, said: "Feller citi-citizens— (Great applause.) We are assembled together on this great occasion (Cries of "Hear him!" "Go it, Old Duffer," etc.) —and should know the whys and wherefores of this grave and potent assemblage; therefore, let some honest, upright office-holder arise and state the call of the corkus." (Sensation.) Here there was a great cry for speeches, during which each man shouted his own name with great energy. During the tumult a corpulent constable managed to mount a molasses hogshead, and after securing a good footing on his slippery platform, with an apologetic wave of the arm and a voice that sounded like the wind escaping through a leak in an organ, said: "Gentlemen, I stand before you—(Here there was great excitement in the crowd below, they having just discovered the fat constable's presence. Loud cries were heard all over the room, "Tip him off," "Go it, old sport," "Bully boy," "By mine dashen," etc.) I stand before you, (a squeaky voice, "hear him"), as an American citizen of this nineteenth century. (Here the speaker's feet slipped on some of the syrup that had oozed out of the hogshead, and he made several agile movements that would have astonished a first-class gymnast. The crowd supposing he was merely going through the ordinary routine of gesticulation for a stump speaker, applauded vociferously.) The speaker continued, breathing very hard—"I have served the town more than two years—two years, think of that! (A voice—"Correct, by Moses.") From my arduous services I made $2,000, 'nuff to buy an ice house, and a comfortable residence. (Cries, "That's so." Cheers.) If the electors return me another year I will build a house for my brother. But if I am defeated"—(voices, No, No! Never!") Speaker in a very loud tone—"If I am defeated, I say—my friends—take grappling irons and rake under the fan-tail of yonder steamer Blue Stone, for there will be found all that remains of poor me, who died for his country." Here the speaker was overcome with emotion, and while vainly trying to stretch his coat-tail so as to wipe his eyes, was carried out into the open air. The audience were so affected by the last pathetic remark, and became so extremely dry, a motion to adjourn "sinum dinum" was passed without a dissenting voice.

Town Nominations.

In Lloyd the Republicans have nominated Levitt Lane for Supervisor.

In Marlborough the Republicans have nominated Ethan Parrott for Supervisor. Dr. W. H. Gedney, nominated on the Liberal ticket, has been endorsed by the Democratic caucus.

In Shandaken the Republicans have nominated M. J. C. Woodworth for Supervisor and the Democrats J. H. Riseley.

In Olive the Democrats have nominated Louis Barton for Supervisor.

In Esopus the Republicans have nominated Amaziah Niece for Supervisor.

In Woodstock the Republicans have nominated W. H. Reynolds, and the Democrats Mark C. Risely for Supervisor.

In Olive the Republicans have nominated C. L. Houck for Supervisor.

In Marbletown the Democrats have nominated John H. Palen for Supervisor.

In Wawarsing the Republicans have nominated Dr. B. R. Bevier.

Personal.

Mr. Ellis E. S. Spencer, on Monday next will accept a position as salesman in Dimmick, Burhans & Webster's dry-goods establishment, corner John and Wall streets. Mr. Spencer has been out of the business for three years, but is so thoroughly informed in its details that he will make a very efficient addition to the concern, and from his wide connection will add largely to the business.

VICINITY.

—The tax-payers of the town of Greenport want to know who burned the town vouchers.

—The madame of a house of ill fame who died in Albany last week left a fortune of $40,000.

—The Paterson Guardian states that at present the Midland road is in a condition which makes traveling thereon dangerous.

—The proprietor of the Mansion House, Poughkeepsie, will hereafter run his house on temperance principles, so that he may read his title clear to mansions in the skies.

—An Albany clergyman, as an evidence of hard times, states that seven marriages which were to take place previous to the setting in of Lent have been postponed, and all owing to the scarcity of money.

—G. D. McCreedy of Cohoes has leased the brick storehouses of the Hudson Steamboat Company for five years. He will use them for a knitting factory, which will employ a large number of hands.

—A clergyman in the northern part of Dutchess county was engaged last Saturday in posting up notices of a donation for his own benefit. He said when he did a thing himself he was sure it was well done.

—Mr. S. B. Truesdell of Cold Spring is circulating a petition, which he intends to present to the Legislature, to extend the time prohibiting the shooting of robins to October 1st, as many of the young ones are not able to take care of themselves by the first of August.

—Between the 10th of March and 15th of April about three hundred prisoners confined in the Albany penitentiary will be discharged, owing to the expiration of their terms of service. Many of them will undoubtedly get back there again.

—The Rensselaer County Bank has closed its doors, and the banking house will be occupied by the Horse Railroad Company as a ticket office. This bank, since its organization in 1852, has paid only three dividends, and the stock is now quoted at ten cents.—The history of the Rensselaer County Bank forcibly reminds Lansingburghers of the very defunct Rensselaer County Insurance Company.

—According to our friend John Slingerland, West Albany has become the greatest hay market in this country. More hay is stored at West Albany to-day than you will find in the whole city of New York. The quantity is not less than 150,000 tons, taking acres of barn room to properly house it. The hay at West Albany at the present moment is worth $300,000. It is all used up on the spot. The buyers pay cash on delivery. Most hay dealers ask from three to six months' credit. People who want to see the largest pile of hay in the world should visit West Albany.—Albany Post.

Washington Irving Reading Club.

A splendid lot of SMOKED HAMS and SHOULDERS for sale by R. Deyo.

OUR FREE PARLIAMENT.

Town of Kingston Matters.

EDITOR OF RONDOUT FREEMAN:—Will you please give a citizen of the town of Kingston a small space in your columns to compare the bills audited by the Town Board for the support of the poor, with the bills audited by all the other towns in the county? I find from the authorized statement published in some of the county papers that Esopus for the year preceding November last is $57.00, Denning $48.00, Lloyd $140.00, Hurley $57.00, Marbletown $73.68, Rosendale $166.00, Marlborough $56.00, New Paltz $20.00, Olive $134.00, Plattekill, $99.00, Rochester $180.00, Saugerties $558.35, Shandaken $34.25, Shawangunk $67.00, Wawarsing $373.00, Woodstock $46.00, Hardenbergh $3.50, amounting to $2,184.63. Now, the town of Kingston: David Carle for late Overseer $2,300.00 and Michael Lamb $1,841.50, Martin Hendricks $312.47, amounting to $4,453.97, being $2,269.34 more than the other seventeen towns combined. Now Martin Hendricks' bill for one part of the town is $312.47, and the citizens of Eddyville say their portion of the town has not cost the Overseers one hundred dollars in ten years.

Does not this look like corruption somewhere, and can your correspondent calling himself Citizen, while vouching for the honesty of some of these officials he proposes to elevate to perhaps a less lucrative, but more important office, tell whether they will look to the interest of the town, or seek to fill their own pockets at at the expense of the tax-payers? EDDYVILLE.

WITHDRAWAL OF A CANDIDATE.

Declination of Mr. Hirsch.

RONDOUT, Feb. 27, 1874.

EDITOR FREEMAN—I respectfully withdraw my name as candidate for Alderman in the Seventh Ward. The reason I will state. First—I promised Mr. Tubby I would withdraw if he got the nomination. Second—I am afraid the city government can't run without Alderman Tubby, and I don't like to have the city suffer on my account. Third—I see, by looking at my naturalization papers, that I had been only 24 years in this city the 12th of July, 1874, and I am not entitled to any office because I am no citizen. The Jews of this city must be here 100 years before they can be citizens. Fourth—My friend Canfield told me I should withdraw because I am not popular and have no friends, and I can't draw over five votes. Why is he afraid, if I only get five votes? "Now, my friend Canfield, how is it about you next year, will you run?" "To be sure I will, it is a good office." "Then what will the citizens of the Sixth Ward say? The sun will never shine for you in the Sixth Ward for Alderman." "Then I will say, good bye, Liza Jane, good bye forever." My friend Tubby is a very nice man, honest and faithful in his office, and I am sure he will never make anything out of the city. Still he is sick, and I will cure him by withdrawing.

Yours truly, ISAAC HIRSCH.

The Hampton Singers.

The sale of reserved seats and tickets for the Hampton Singers' Concert will begin on the morning after the Thomas Concert, March 3d. For the accommodation of parties out of town, Mr. Crane announces that orders for seats and tickets by mail will receive prompt attention. The programme to be offered by our "called bredern and sistern" is a new and most excellent one.

Excursion Train.

Agreeable to the wishes expressed by many of the friends of the Wallkill Valley Railway in this city and county the Erie Railway has arranged for a Grand Public Pleasure Excursion from Kingston to New York and return on Tuesday, March 10th, leaving Kingston at 7:15 A. M. on that day and returning same day. Return tickets good for the entire week, or until Saturday, March 14th. Fare for the round trip only TWO DOLLARS AND A HALF ($2.50). Tickets for sale at Winter Bros', Rondout and Kingston, and at the Wallkill Valley Railway depot.

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1874.

A year ago the editor of The Tribune promised to make this journal during 1873 a much more valuable and complete newspaper than it had ever been before. Its facilities for the collection and transmission of intelligence from all parts of the world had been largely increased; its staff of editors, correspondents, and reporters had been strengthened by the engagement of some of the ablest men in the profession; and the editor was resolved to spare neither pains nor money in the effort to make The Tribune the very first newspaper in the world.

It points to the achievements of the past twelve months with pardonable pride. While The Tribune has retained all the excellent features that made it such a favorite in its former days, it has exhibited an enterprise and acuteness in its news department which have been the wonder of all its old friends. Remembering that the chief function of a daily journal is to give its readers the fullest, the best arranged, the most attractive, and the most readable history of the occurrences of the time, it has devoted its best energies to the business, and its success has been universally recognized and applauded. The year has been fruitful of startling events, and every incident has found in The Tribune its promptest, most accurate, and most perfectly equipped historian. A Tribune correspondent was the only civilian who witnessed the surrender of the Virginius, and his picturesque description of that transaction, transmitted by telegraph, is the only account the public has yet seen of an incident upon which depended for many weeks the question of peace or war. The Tribune published the only full and exhaustive account by Atlantic telegraph of the terrible Ville du Havre disaster, giving all the incidents of that catastrophe ten days before other journals received them by the slow course of mails. It distanced all competitors in its thrilling story by cable of the adventures of the Polaris castaways. It anticipated every other paper in the country and even the Government itself, by its graphic narratives of Custer's battles on the Yellowstone. The elaborate and deeply interesting letters of its special correspondent in the West gave the only complete account of the Farmers' Movement ever published in an Eastern paper. The reports of The Tribune presented the important proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance in this city with a fullness and accuracy everywhere the subject of enthusiastic praise. During the panic its daily history of Wall street made it absolutely indispensable to business men; and its special correspondents afterward described the condition of affairs in the manufacturing districts with an ability which no other paper seriously rivaled.

These are mere instances of the uniform success in the most important branch of journalism which has steadily attended The Tribune throughout the year, and may therefore be fairly taken as an earnest of what The Tribune is likely to do hereafter. Its purpose in 1874 is to surpass its previous record, constantly increasing the efficiency of its organization, adding to its resources, and keeping up its ancient celebrity as an organ of cultivated and thoughtful men, and a high authority in literature, science, and the arts. It will continue to devote especial attention to the proceedings of learned bodies, to education, to scientific discoveries and explorations, to new inventions, to agriculture, to the promotion of American industry, and to books, pictures, music, and the drama. Its financial articles have won a peculiarly high reputation, and will still be a prominent feature in its columns. Its reports of the markets have long been distinguished for fullness and accuracy, and its quotations have been accepted as standards in the cattle, produce, and provision trades for many years. Its reports of local affairs are acknowledged to be the most accurate, intelligent and complete; its domestic correspondence is always fresh and valuable; and abroad it is served by the ablest writers and keenest observers engaged upon any American periodical.

While it never can be a neutral in politics, The Tribune is entirely independent of all parties and all partisans. It believes that the mere organ of a clique cannot be a thoroughly good newspaper, and cannot be trusted for impartial and just comment upon current events. It maintains with the old fervor and will always defend the Republican principles of equality and justice with which, under the control of its illustrious founder, Horace Greeley, it was for over thirty years identified. But it values parties solely as means for procuring honest government on sound principles. For the partisans who deplore exposures of corruption or imbecility in high places as likely to hurt the party and hinder their success in holding on to the offices—who insist that a journal of their faith must follow their lead, execute their plans, and defend their acts, it has no feeling save contempt. Standing by its old landmarks, it defends the constitutional guarantees to the liberty of the citizen and the sacredness of the nation's faith with its creditors, insists on the duty of Protection to American Industry, champions all proper measures for developing the material resources of the country, urges wise mean for restricting the evils of intemperance, seeks sedulously to foster the commanding interests of Manufactures and Agriculture. But it holds itself aloof from all entangling alliances, waits on no Caucus or Convention for its opinions, aims to judge every political act of whatever party, separately as it arises, on its own merits, and maintains the liberty of candid and impartial criticism. During the present session of Congress its telegraphic reports from Washington, where it maintains the strongest force of experienced correspondents ever assembled there in the interests of a single journal, will be found incomparably more valuable and more interesting than those of any of its contemporaries. And finally, in the editorial discussion of public affairs, The Tribune endeavors to combine the utmost frankness of expression and independence of thought with a strict impartiality of judgment and that dignity and refinement of language which befit a family newspaper. It wastes no space in wrangling with other papers, pays no attention to personal abuse, and reserves its columns for its readers' interests, not the editor's grievances.

That there is a popular appreciation of that sort of independent, vigorous, enterprising, and high-toned journalism of which The Tribune is now the chief representative in this or any other country, is sufficiently proved by the results of the past twelve months. The close of 1873 finds this paper more prosperous than it has been at any previous period of its history, and the new year opens for it with the most brilliant prospects. In a short time its mechanical facilities will surpass those of any other journal in the world; and on the completion of its new and magnificent building it will be enabled to introduce various improvements of the most important character.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Semi-Weekly Tribune has grown very rapidly in public favor of late. In addition to a careful summary of the news it contains all the best of the foreign and domestic correspondence and leading articles of the Daily;—it gives specially the scientific intelligence (including the proceedings of all American scientific societies), with the best of the book reviews, and the miscellaneous matter relating to education, the arts, religion, &c. It has all the commercial news and market reports; all the agricultural articles of the Weekly; and gives, moreover, regularly a serial work of fiction, presenting in the course of the year three or four of the latest productions of the most popular novelists. As it takes only a few select advertisements, it is enabled to give an unusually large proportion of reading matter, and may be called, considering the extent and variety of its contents, the cheapest newspaper in the world. It is published every Tuesday and Friday, and reaches nearly every post office east of the Mississippi within one or two days of its issue.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Weekly Tribune has been for the space of a generation the Farmer's favorite paper. Besides a complete condensation of the news of the week, a selection of literary and miscellaneous reading, and a full page of the best editorials from the Daily, it contains in every number a greater amount of agricultural matter than is furnished by any distinctively agricultural paper. This is prepared expressly for its columns by the best agricultural writers and practical farmers in the United States; and as its contributors are in every part of the country it will be found equally valuable in New England, in the South, on the Pacific slope, or in the Mississippi Valley. Great attention is paid to all subjects connected with the Farm, the Garden, and the Household, and some of the original articles every week are illustrated with wood-cuts. The market quotations of farm produce, cattle, provisions, breadstuffs, dry goods, and all kinds of merchandise, are exceedingly full and scrupulously accurate. The utmost care is bestowed on the typographical arrangement of the paper, and the print is always clear and legible, and generally larger than that of any other New York paper.

THE TRIBUNE EXTRAS.

A new feature has been added to American journalism by the valuable Tribune Extra sheets, which have attained such an extraordinary popularity during the past year. They present the fresh fruit of the best intellects of this and other countries, the most remarkable lectures, the most valuable scientific and geographical researches, at a merely nominal price. In the series of 14 Extras already published will be found, reprinted for the most part from the columns of the Daily Tribune, some of the latest lectures of Agassiz, Tyndall and Beecher; the explorations of Prof. Hayden, the full history and description of the Farmers' Movement, the best lessons of the great Vienna Exposition, and the complete report of the proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance. Half a million of the Extras have already been sold, and the demand for them is steadily increasing.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminitics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

A LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL INFORMATION.

THE NEW

American Cyclopædia.

Complete in 16 Volumes.

This important work presents a panoramic view of all human knowledge, as it exists at the present moment. It embraces and popularizes every subject that can be thought of, and contains an inexhaustible fund of accurate and practical information. No topic, in brief, is omitted, upon which information can be desired. The work is a library in itself; it is a complete universal instructor, and opens to the student and general reader the whole field of knowledge.

OPINIONS OF DISTINGUISHED AMERICANS.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England. Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY, "U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it. CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude. JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

"North Shore, S. I., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1869.

Appletons' Cyclopaedia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopaedia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value. S. P. CHASE.

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1874.

A year ago the editor of The Tribune promised to make this journal during 1873 a much more valuable and complete newspaper than it had ever been before. Its facilities for the collection and transmission of intelligence from all parts of the world had been largely increased; its staff of editors, correspondents, and reporters had been strengthened by the engagement of some of the ablest men in the profession; and the editor was resolved to spare neither pains nor money in the effort to make The Tribune the very first newspaper in the world.

It points to the achievements of the past twelve months with pardonable pride. While The Tribune has retained all the excellent features that made it such a favorite in its former days, it has exhibited an enterprise and acuteness in its news department which have been the wonder of all its old friends. Remembering that the chief function of a daily journal is to give its readers the fullest, the best arranged, the most attractive, and the most readable history of the occurrences of the time, it has devoted its best energies to the business, and its success has been universally recognized and applauded. The year has been fruitful of startling events, and every incident has found in The Tribune its promptest, most accurate, and most perfectly equipped historian. A Tribune correspondent was the only civilian who witnessed the surrender of the Virginius, and his picturesque description of that transaction, transmitted by telegraph, is the only account the public has yet seen of an incident upon which depended for many weeks the question of peace or war. The Tribune published the only full and exhaustive account by Atlantic telegraph of the terrible Ville du Havre disaster, giving all the incidents of that catastrophe ten days before other journals received them by the slow course of mails. It distanced all competitors in its thrilling story by cable of the adventures of the Polaris castaways. It anticipated every other paper in the country and even the Government itself, by its graphic narratives of Custer's battles on the Yellowstone. The elaborate and deeply interesting letters of its special correspondent in the West gave the only complete account of the Farmers' Movement ever published in an Eastern paper. The reports of The Tribune presented the important proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance in this city with a fullness and accuracy everywhere the subject of enthusiastic praise. During the panic its daily history of Wall street made it absolutely indispensable to business men; and its special correspondents afterward described the condition of affairs in the manufacturing districts with an ability which no other paper seriously rivaled.

These are mere instances of the uniform success in the most important branch of journalism which has steadily attended The Tribune throughout the year, and may therefore be fairly taken as an earnest of what The Tribune is likely to do hereafter. Its purpose in 1874 is to surpass its previous record, constantly increasing the efficiency of its organization, adding to its resources, and keeping up its ancient celebrity as an organ of cultivated and thoughtful men, and a high authority in literature, science, and the arts. It will continue to devote especial attention to the proceedings of learned bodies, to education, to scientific discoveries and explorations, to new inventions, to agriculture, to the promotion of American industry, and to books, pictures, music, and the drama. Its financial articles have won a peculiarly high reputation, and will still be a prominent feature in its columns. Its reports of the markets have long been distinguished for fullness and accuracy, and its quotations have been accepted as standards in the cattle, produce, and provision trades for many years. Its reports of local affairs are acknowledged to be the most accurate, intelligent and complete; its domestic correspondence is always fresh and valuable; and abroad it is served by the ablest writers and keenest observers engaged upon any American periodical.

While it never can be a neutral in politics, The Tribune is entirely independent of all parties and all partisans. It believes that the mere organ of a clique cannot be a thoroughly good newspaper, and cannot be trusted for impartial and just comment upon current events. It maintains with the old fervor and will always defend the Republican principles of equality and justice with which, under the control of its illustrious founder, Horace Greeley, it was for over thirty years identified. But it values parties solely as means for procuring honest government on sound principles. For the partisans who deplore exposures of corruption or imbecility in high places as likely to hurt the party and hinder their success in holding on to the offices—who insist that a journal of their faith must follow their lead, execute their plans, and defend their acts, it has no feeling save contempt. Standing by its old landmarks, it defends the constitutional guarantees to the liberty of the citizen and the sacredness of the nation's faith with its creditors, insists on the duty of Protection to American Industry, champions all proper measures for developing the material resources of the country, urges wise mean for restricting the evils of intemperance, seeks sedulously to foster the commanding interests of Manufactures and Agriculture. But it holds itself aloof from all entangling alliances, waits on no Caucus or Convention for its opinions, aims to judge every political act of whatever party, separately as it arises, on its own merits, and maintains the liberty of candid and impartial criticism. During the present session of Congress its telegraphic reports from Washington, where it maintains the strongest force of experienced correspondents ever assembled there in the interests of a single journal, will be found incomparably more valuable and more interesting than those of any of its cotemporaries. And finally, in the editorial discussion of public affairs, The Tribune endeavors to combine the utmost frankness of expression and independence of thought with a strict impartiality of judgment and that dignity and refinement of language which befit a family newspaper. It wastes no space in wrangling with other papers, pays no attention to personal abuse, and reserves its columns for its readers' interests, not the editor's grievances.

That there is a popular appreciation of that sort of independent, vigorous, enterprising, and high-toned journalism of which The Tribune is now the chief representative in this or any other country, is sufficiently proved by the results of the past twelve months. The close of 1873 finds this paper more prosperous than it has been at any previous period of its history, and the new year opens for it with the most brilliant prospects. In a short time its mechanical facilities will surpass those of any other journal in the world; and on the completion of its new and magnificent building it will be enabled to introduce various improvements of the most important character.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Semi-Weekly Tribune has grown very rapidly in public favor of late. In addition to a careful summary of the news it contains all the best of the foreign and domestic correspondence and leading articles of the Daily;—it gives specially the scientific intelligence (including the proceedings of all American scientific societies), with the best of the book reviews, and the miscellaneous matter relating to education, the arts, religion, &c. It has all the commercial news and market reports; all the agricultural articles of the Weekly; and gives, moreover, regularly a serial work of fiction, presenting in the course of the year three or four of the latest productions of the most popular novelists. As it takes only a few select advertisements, it is enabled to give an unusually large proportion of reading matter, and may be called, considering the extent and variety of its contents, the cheapest newspaper in the world. It is published every Tuesday and Friday, and reaches nearly every post office east of the Mississippi within one or two days of its issue.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Weekly Tribune has been for the space of a generation the Farmer's favorite paper. Besides a complete condensation of the news of the week, a selection of literary and miscellaneous reading, and a full page of the best editorials from the Daily, it contains in every number a greater amount of agricultural matter than is furnished by any distinctively agricultural paper. This is prepared expressly for its columns by the best agricultural writers and practical farmers in the United States; and as its contributors are in every part of the country it will be found equally valuable in New England, in the South, on the Pacific slope, or in the Mississippi Valley. Great attention is paid to all subjects connected with the Farm, the Garden, and the Household, and some of the original articles every week are illustrated with wood-cuts. The market quotations of farm produce, cattle, provisions, breadstuffs, dry goods, and all kinds of merchandise, are exceedingly full and scrupulously accurate. The utmost care is bestowed on the typographical arrangement of the paper, and the print is always clear and legible, and generally larger than that of any other New York paper

THE TRIBUNE EXTRAS.

A new feature has been added to American journalism by the valuable Tribune Extra sheets, which have attained such an extraordinary popularity during the past year. They present the fresh fruit of the best intellects of this and other countries, the most remarkable lectures, the most valuable scientific and geographical researches, at a merely nominal price. In the series of 14 Extras already published will be found, reprinted for the most part from the columns of the Daily Tribune, some of the latest lectures of Agassiz, Tyndall and Beecher; the explorations of Prof. Hayden, the full history and description of the Farmers' Movement, the best lessons of the great Vienna Exposition, and the complete report of the proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance. Half a million of the Extras have already been sold, and the demand for them is steadily increasing.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminitics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

TWO LARGE

Hardware Stores.

Kingston and Ellenville,

ULSTER COUNTY, N. Y.

SAHLER, REYNOLDS & DU BOIS,

(Successors to SAHLER & REYNOLDS.)

Having purchased the Hardware store of E. G Fuller & Co., at Ellenville, and stocked it with large and complete assortment of goods, are now prepared to run it as a branch of their Kingston house.

We have now on hand, at our two establishments the ever offered to the people of Ulster and adjoining Counties, and respectfully ask a critical examination of the same by a discriminating public.

We Sell Both at Wholesale and Retail.

All goods bought direct from the Manufacturers, and will be sold accordingly. Attention is especially invited to the stock of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS AND HARVESTING TOOLS,

Consisting of Plows, Straw Cutters, Corn Shellers, Horse Rakes, Shovels, Spades, Hoes, Scythes and Snaths, Grain Cradles, &c. Also, a large and varied assortment of

House-Furnishing Hardware, Table and Pocket Cutlery, and all kinds of Shelf Hardware generally kept in a well reguated Hardware Store.

GENERAL HARDWARE.

Iron, Steel, Nails, Springs, Axles, Wood Work, Spokes, Felloes, Shafts, Poles and Hubs.
We challenge a comparison of our stock of SHELF HARDWARE, Iron, Steel, Copper, Zinc, Lead Malleable Iron. Springs, Pumps, Bands, Harness and Coach Trimmings, Patent Leather and Enamelled Cloths, &c.
Also, Carpenters' and Coopers' Tools, Bellows, Vises, &c., &c
We are also Agents for the BABCOCK PUMP which is warranted not to freeze.

POWDER!

We are sole Agents for

DuPont's Celebrated Blasting and Sporting Powder.

Acknowledged by Miners and Sportsmen to be the Best in the World!

Blasting Powder, F, FF, FFF, FFFF, kegs 25 lbs each
DuPont's Rifle Powder, Fg, FFg, FFFg, kegs, 6¼, 12½ 25 lbs. each.

A LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL INFORMATION.

THE NEW

American Cyclopædia.

Complete in 16 Volumes.

This important work presents a panoramic view of all human knowledge, as it exists at the present moment. It embraces and popularizes every subject that can be thought of, and contains an inexhaustible fund of accurate and practical information. No topic, in brief, is omitted, upon which information can be desired. The work is a library in itself; it is a complete universal instructor, and opens to the student and general reader the whole field of knowledge.

should be owned by every intelligent family in the country.

THE

ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.

Commenced in 1861.

TWELVE VOLUMES NOW OUT.

The same price per volume, and uniform with the NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPAEDIA.

PUBLISHED ONE VOLUME ANNUALLY.

REGISTERING ALL THE IMPORTANT EVENTS OF EACH YEAR—VALUABLE AS A WORK OF REFERENCE.

OPINIONS OF

DISTINGUISHED AMERICANS.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England. Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,
"U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869.

I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it. CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude. JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

"North Shore, S. I., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1869.

Appletons' Cyclopaedia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869.

DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopaedia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value. S. P. CHASE.

ANY VOLUME SOLD SEPARATELY.
